Sen. Carter Glass To Challenge Legality Of NRA

WILL BRING QUESTION UP IN CONGRESS

Owner of Two Newspapers Declines to Display Blue Eagle in Window

CODE IS TURNED DOWN

Original Hopes of Success for NRA Hit Hard Blow By Henry Ford Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Storm warnings were hoisted in the path of the blue eagle today.

Senator Carter Glass, Dem., Va., who refused to become President Roosevelt's secretary of treasury, is preparing to challenge the constitutionality of the national recovery act when congress meets.

The caustic diminutive banking expert of the senate voted against the recovery act last spring and its working thus far have only confirmed him in his original position, it was learned.

This development came on the heels of a declaration before the American Federation of Labor by Sen. Robert F. Wagner, one of the authors of the recovery act, who said that the NRA program had to be made stronger to bring real recovery. He said that wages would have to be made higher and hours shorter than they are under existing codes to absorb the idle which still number more than 10,000,000, according to his estimate.

Word of the forthcoming opposition of Senator Glass developed when inquiry was made concerning the absence of the blue eagle from his two newspapers at Lynchburg, Va.

"My papers are not flying the blue eagle," Glass said. "My newspapers, seven months before the NRA act was proposed, went on a five-day week basis, and my wage scale is much above the requirement of NRA.

"As I understand it, no newspaper code has yet been adopted. I decline to sign any blank agreement to let anyone run my business. When the code is adopted, I will then consider whether to observe it or not."

Glass recently returned from a trip to Europe with Bernard M. Baruch, close personal and business associate of General Hugh

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR 5 INSANE MEN

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Five criminally insane men were at large today in northern Oreon, led by a man whom authorities said was wanted for crimes in 47 states.

Their information as to the identity of the leader of the sensational escape of the inmates of the state hospital insane ward came from Elmer Becker, 27. Becker was the only one recaptured in the first 24 hours of the search.

He was taken when he sought food at a farmhouse near Gervais. He told authorities the outbreak was led by William O. Bowen, a former inmate of Florida, Missouri and Washington institutions. The others at large were Alvin Carter, George Farrin, Adolph Bowser and Fran Welch.

KELLYS' CASE TO REACH JURY LATE TODAY

Woman And 19 Cats Evicted By Sheriff

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Evicted from her home here by sheriff's men, the first thought of Miss Jane Mersing, 60, was the feeding and caring for her 19 cats.

The story of the elderly woman and her cats was told today by Deputy Fred Kenna of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

"At first she begged to keep the cats but we pointed out that she had no place to keep them," Kenna said. "Then she gathered up 10 of them and gave them to us with a plea we care for them. Then she took a kitten in her arms and walked down the street. Eight cats still are at large."

FLORIDA VOTES ON REPEAL OF DRY LAW TODAY

Wet and Dry Leaders Both Confident of Victory as Polls Open

BULLETIN

FT. PIERCE, Fla., Oct. 10.—(UP)—The first precinct to report this afternoon in St. Lucie county in the Florida repeal election gave seven votes for repeal of the prohibition amendment and no votes against repeal.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Florida voted today on repeal of the 18th amendment. Impartial observers predicted she would be the 33rd state to repudiate national prohibition. If these predictions are proven, the repeal cause will be within three states of realization.

Wet leaders expected the doom of the 18th amendment to be sealed in less than a month. Nov. 7 six states—Ohio, Pennsylvania, North and South Carolina, Utah and Kentucky—vote and unless the overwhelming repeal trend is miraculously reversed, they will give the wets more than enough states to put the 21st (repeal) amendment into the constitution.

GANG INFORMER IS SHOT BY GANGSTERS

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—(UP) — A ruthless gang czar, believed to have ordered the slaying of two of his lieutenants he suspected of giving information to federal officers, fought desperately today to thwart the government war against crime.

The deaths of Gus Winkler and Edgar Lebensberger, known for their connections, were ordered, federal officers believe, because of fear they might reveal the wide ramifications of a gigantic crime ring.

Winkler was killed by assassins who fired 72 shotgun slugs into his back a few hours before he was to have been questioned again concerning the $250,000 Chicago mail robbery last December. Lebensberger was found shot to death in his palatial North Shore home last Friday.

FIVE RESCUED FROM SUNKEN GREEK SHIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The rescue of Capt. George Couveilos and four members of the crew of the sunken Greek steamer Annoula was revealed today in a message from the Italian steamer Montello. Sixteen other members of the crew still are missing.

The five survivors were picked up in a lifeboat last night, the message said.

The Montello wirelessed that she was proceedings to Philadelphia with the survivors.

Liberalism Of Court To Be Tested

Takes Over Jurisdiction of Cases Involving New Deal Legislation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Liberalism of the supreme court today was assured a thorough test during its present session.

The court's willingness to meet the test was indicated by its action in taking jurisdiction in a number of cases involving new deal legislation which were among 334 it consented to hear yesterday.

The cases include not only such emergency regulations as Minnesota's mortgage moratorium law, which may settle the fate of many similar statutes, but such laws as Arkansas' full train crew law and a Nebraska law regulating the size of bakers' loaves of bread.

The importance which the court attaches to emergency legislation such as the Minnesota case was indicated when it was announced argument would be heard Nov. 6. Normally the case would not have been reached for at least two months.

This decision may imply that the government will be unable to delay a showdown on its emergency legislation should it decide on such a course.

The Arkansas train law was passed to insure the safety of passengers and crews on trains by prescribing the minimum size of crews. The Missouri Pacific railroad contends that the burden has cost them more than $500,000, that modern safety appliances make the legislation no longer necessary and that it is a burden on interstate commerce.

The Nebraska bread law was passed to prevent the deceptive sale of various bread sizes. Bakers claimed the law an "arbitrary and unreasonable restriction" on their business. It permits the sale only of half pound, one pound and one and one-half pound loaves.

Also significant was the court's decision to consider the validity of a South Carolina law permitting the appointment of conservators to handle the affairs of closed banks. This law parallels the federal act for national banks. It was attacked by a depositor who contended the appointment of an officer and stockholder of a closed bank was against the best interests of depositors.

The same state's drastic license restrictions on trucks using its highways was also promised consideration.

Mississippi's law taxing cotton brokers, cotton compresses and cotton warehouses will come under the court's scrutiny on the plea that cotton is only bought in that state as part of an interstate movement since the state itself has no cotton mills.

BANK DEPOSITORS TO RECEIVE FUNDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10. —(UP)—Depositors in the closed bank of Cambria, San Luis Obispo county, will receive 50 per cent of their deposits, State Superintendent of Banks Edward Rainey announced today.

Depositors, Rainey announced, will have one-half of their claims at their disposal today at the Bank of America branch at Cambria.

Bank of America has bought the assets of the closed bank for enough cash to make the 50 per cent distribution available, Rainey said.

POLISH PRESIDENT MARRIES SECRETARY

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 10. —(UP)—Sixty-seven-year-old President Ignacy Moscicki today married his secretary, Mme. Maria Zagorny, just half his age.

The cardinal archbishop of Warsaw solemnized the wedding at 11 a. m. in the ancient little abbey near the presidential palace.

Moscicki's daughter and three officials of his office attended the simple ceremony.

PACIFIC COAST WALNUT PACT IS SIGNED BY SECY. WALLACE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Members of the control committee were announced today: A. J. McFadden, of Santa Ana; Neal Harrison, Danville; H. P. Sharp, Saticoy; and P. Thorpe, Los Angeles, all representing the California walnut Growers Association; A. W. Porter jr., Stockton, representing independent growers; R. A. Duncan, Dundee, Ore., of the Oregon Cooperative Growers; Charles Trunk, Newburgh, Ore., representing independent packers; and F. R. Wilcox, Berkeley, Calif., chosen by other members of the board.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—A marketing agreement for the Pacific Coast walnut industry has been approved by the agricultural adjustment administration and signed by Secretary Wallace and the walnut packers, the department announced today.

The plan provided in the agreement limits the quantity of merchantable walnuts to be sold in the domestic market as unshelled nuts, and provides that the surplus in excess of this quantity be sold for shelling, exported or carried over to the following year. Each packer is required to turn over to a control board, from his August 1 carryover and deliveries from the current crop, an equal percentage to be disposed of as surplus walnuts.

Since the objective of the agreement is to obtain higher returns for all growers than could be expected without an agreement, administration officials point out that it is only fair that all growers should make equitable contributions to ths surplus. Growers selling through co-operatives contribute to the surplus by pooling all sales.

Growers selling to other packers may contribute to the surplus by either of two general methods. First, they may sell that portion of their crop which is to be resold in the domestic market at a price agreed upon with the buyer and then turn over the surplus portion to be settled for on the basis of the proceeds realized from the sale of the surplus. Second, they may contribute to the surplus by selling all of their walnuts at an agreed price, based upon the probable market for all walnut sales, including those which the packer is permitted to sell in the domestic market and the surplus which must be turned over to the control board.

OUSTED TRADE OFFICER BACK AT POST TODAY

Wm. Humphrey Gets Support of G.O.P. Leaders in Defy to President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Chipper and suave William E. Humphrey, the man who defied President Roosevelt's order removing him as federal trade commissioner, said today that influential Republican party leaders were backing him in his fight to retain office.

For the second time this week he appeared in his old office disregarding the ouster edict and the commission's formal stand backing the president.

"You may rely that I have consulted men high in the ranks of my party and will continue to rely on them for advice and support in any action I may see fit to take," said Humphrey.

"Has President Hoover tendered his support?" he was asked.

"I have neither received from nor sent a communication to Mr. Hoover since he left the White House," replied the Hoover appointee.

Humphrey maintained silence in

GOV. ROLPH PLACED ON HALF TIME DAY

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 10. —(UP)—Gov. James Rolph jr., has been placed on a half-time work day by his Sacramento medical advisors in order that he may receive the rest necessary to complete recovery from his recent pneumonia attack.

Acting on orders from Dr. June B. Harris, the governor did not appear at his offices yesterday, spending most of the day resting in bed at his home. The physician explained that while X-ray examination showed all pneumonia conditions to have been cleared from the governor's lungs, the usual post-pneumonic heart strain was evident. Heavy work was therefore inadvisable, Dr. Harris said.

STATE WATER BODY FIGHTS REFERENDUM

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Organization of the state water plan association's campaign to defeat the referendum against the $170,000,000 Great Central Valley water project was complete today with selection of officers and determination of the budget necessary to carry on the fight.

ABDICATION OF TAMMANY HEAD IS DEMANDED

Brooklyn Organization Rebels and Ultimatum is Sent to McCooey

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The powerful Brooklyn organization of John H. McCooey, Democratic national committeeman and co-boss of city politics with John F. Curry, mutinied today against Tammany Hall.

The rebels demanded McCooey's abdication unless he permits the county executive committee to throw its support to Joseph V. McKee, the "recovery" party candidate for mayor in a bitter, three-cornered political battle.

Similar notice was served on John Theofel, Democratic boss of Queens county, who was informed that his district leaders would oust him unless he accedes to sentiment for McKee.

Nineteen of the 24 Brooklyn district leaders were associated in the revolt which flared into the open with announcement they had decided to ignore the notification ceremonies today for Mayor John P. O'Brien, Tammany candidate for re-election, and unprecedented division within the party.

Loss of Brooklyn, numerically the most potent county in the city, would be considered a death blow to Tammany's hopes in the coming election. Declaration of the McCooey organization for McKee would pile up an almost unsurmountable handicap for Fiorello H. LaGuardia, fusion candidate, it was believed.

The rebellious Brooklyn leaders were seeking a conference with McCooey to inform him of their intentions.

Seemingly unperturbed by the rising clamor of revolt in the ranks and the desertion of prominent leaders, loyal braves donned silk hats and swallow tails to formally notify Mayor O'Brien that he would be the Tammany mayoralty candidate against Mc-

LABOR OPPOSED TO SCHOOLS CLOSING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Curtailment of public education, with a resultant closing of schools and dismissal of teachers was denounced in resolutions adopted today by the American Federation of Labor.

The federation at its 53rd annual convention approved a series of resolutions condemning the slashing of appropriations for free public education.

Kidnap Case Nearing End In Oklahoma

Little if Any Defense is Expected and Verdict Expected Shortly

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The fate of George (Machine Gun) Kelly and his fiery young wife, Katherine, was expected to rest with a federal jury before night. A verdict today was possible.

The speed with which prosecution was pushed against the last of the 14 persons indicted in the $200,000 extortion abduction of the oil millionaire indicated that the government would rest its case this afternoon. Little if any defense was expected.

U. S. District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde and Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant U. S. Attorney General fighting kidnap racketeers, made their campaign to send the former used car dealer and bootlegger and his much-married manicurist wife to the penitentiary for life along the same lines that netted them victory over Harvey Bailey, Albert Bates and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon.

The same witnesses were called. They told substantially the same stories. Urschel again was the chief government witness. He retold the story of his abduction, nine days captivity and ransom.

But he added a new chapter. He told of the vicious death threat mailed him during the first trial, signed with the finger prints of the bragging fugitive, Kelly. It served notice that he and his family would be killed, that the luxurious home here from which he was kidnaped by machine gunners the night of July 22 would be blown up.

WARDEN HOLOHAN OF SAN QUENTIN ILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10. —(UP)—Warden James Holohan, of San Quentin prison, was in St. Francis hospital here today suffering from a nervous breakdown said to have been caused by recent arduous duties at the penitentiary.

Revere Smith, secretary to the warden, said Holohan was worn out by the strain of transferring women prisoners to the new institution at Tehatchapi and the "dressing in" last Friday of David Lamson, sentenced to death on conviction of murdering his wife in their Stanford campus cottage.

Physicians ordered the warden to take a complete rest.

TWO SENTENCED AS KIDNAPERS IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Nicolina De Palma, 23, Yonkers nurse, and James Medley, 25, filling station manager, were sentenced today to five and ten years, respectively, in a federal penitentiary for threatening to kidnap Helen Batcheller Dougherty, niece of a Morgan partner.

The sentences were pronounced by Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe. Both had pleaded guilty to indictments drawn under the new Lindbergh kidnap law.

The defendants attempted to extort $10,000 from Franklin E. Batcheller of Yonkers on threats to kidnap his 23-year-old daughter, who is a niece of Russell C. Leffingwell of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

STEEL ORDERS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation reached an all-time low as of September 30 at 1,775,740 tons, figures released today showed.

The total unfilled tonage was a decrease during the month of 114,704 tons.

The previous low was touched at the close of March this year at 1,841,002 tons.

The year's high for steel's unfilled orders was 2,106,671 tons at the close of June.

DAVID WETTLIN ADMITS THEFT FROM ESTATE

Prominent Attorney Asks Complaint Be Issued Against Himself

ADMITTING THAT he had borrowed funds from the estate of the late Jacob M. Haist, which he was handling as executor, and could not make restitution, David G. Wettlin, well known Santa Ana attorney, this morning presented himself to the district attorney and asked that a complaint be issued against him.

The complaint, charging grand theft of approximately $3152, was signed by R. H. Sandon, chief investigator for the district attorney, and Wettlin was arraigned immediately before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison and released under $1000 bond pending his preliminary hearing which was set for October 14 at 9 a. m.

In a statement to the district attorney Wettlin said that he presented himself to the law when efforts at restitution had failed.

Presenting himself to the district attorney Wettlin said that he had borrowed funds from the estate expecting to make full restitution before the final date for settlement. He presented a sheaf of checks covering approximately $5000 and representing a portion of the more than $7000

REPORT FROM JURY IS EXPECTED TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—(UP)—A report was expected today from the federal grand jury which investigated alleged irregularities in indemnification of California dairymen for condemned cattle.

In finishing its two weeks' work, the jury heard testimony of Attilio Lertora and Eugene Biggio, Marin county cattle dealers. Their claim for $13,000 for indemnities was held up by the state department of agriculture. They had about 500 head of cattle destroyed as "diseased."

Feedral investigators spent months tracing reports that cattle purchased at low prices brought much larger sums when moved into control areas and destroyed as 'tubercular reactors."

ISSUES SOLD IN ORDER TO AVOID TAXES

Millions Poured Into Rail Shares That Today Are Worth But Few Dollars

CREATED BIG LOSS

Charter Read to Show That Officers of Company Exempted of Liability

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Sales of huge blocks of railroad stocks in 1929 by Dillon, Read and company, and that firm's investment trusts were revealed today by senate stock market investigations to have been for the purpose of avoiding income tax.

Ernest Bell Tracy, president of the two investment trusts, controlled by Dillon, Read and company testified regarding the sales.

"The sales were to offset profits and give a true picture of the operations for the year 1929," Tracy said.

"You created a loss to offset profits," said Senator Couzens, Repn., Mich.

"That's right," Tracy replied.

It was shown that the United States and International Securities corporation bought 100,000 shares of the Louisiana Land and Exploration company for $278,000 and it now is valued at $75,000. Tracy was an officer of the Louisiana Land company.

"Did you recommend the purchase of the stock?" Pecora asked.

"I don't remember but it was not my custom to recommend securities in which I was interested," Tracy replied.

"That was not the custom," Pecora fired back, "but we find in the portfolios of the investment trusts large blocks of stock issued by corporations in which the directors were interested."

"We would have to eliminate good securities to avoid that," Tracy said.

"Yes," Pecora replied, "eliminate such good securities as Frisco and Rock Island, which shows a loss of $11,000,000."

Tracy said the investment trusts had put about $3,500,000 in the se-

EX CONVICT BADLY BEATEN IN BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Believed to have been beaten in a quarrel over a woman, Charles Stewart, 33, ex-convict, was near death in an emergency hospital today.

Clutching a few strands of red hair in his hand, Stewart was found unconscious in an eastside gutter. Examination disclosed he had suffered a basal skull fracture and severe lacerations.

Mrs. Irene Sherman, who lives near the spot where Stewart was found, told of having been awakened by a loud quarrel between three men and a woman, which culminated in a brawl between the three men.

Stewart recovered consciousness afterward only long enough to give his name.

Police said he had been sent to San Quentin in 1928 for theft of an automobile.

DEMANDS OF COTTON PICKERS REFUSED

FRESNO, Calif., Oct. 10.—(UP)—California's great cotton-growing area was ominously calm today as both growers and striking pickers sparred cautiously for advantage in a dispute which took nearly 10,000 pickers out of the fields.

The growers were adamant in refusal to grant the strikers' demands for a 66 per cent wage increase. The strikers were determined that no cotton would be picked except at their proposed rate of $1 per hundredweight.

Growers refused mediation offers of the state. They said they would "let the cotton rot on the ground" before they compromised with strikers whom they claimed were led by "outside radicals and communists."

curities of corporations, on seven of which he was a director.

The record showed that the investment trust had suffered a $1,200,000 loss on securities of corporations of which Tracy was a director. Pecora said the liability exemption clause in the investment corporation charter was "absolutely shocking."

He read from the charter of the United States and foreign which specifically exempted its officers and directors from any liability incurred by the trust in a transaction in which the officers or directors might be interested, also in the other corporation which was a party to the transaction. The exemption said there should be no liability even if the interested director voted in a way adverse to the interests of the trust company.

"You approve of that sort of provision?" Pecora asked.

"I do," Tracy said. "Our company was run honestly as the results show."

The hearing recessed at 12:40 p. m.

COMPLIANCE BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT

Tuesday nights at 7:30 o'clock was the time and date set today by County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson, head of the Orange County NRA Compliance board, as regular meeting dates for the board. The board will meet tonight in the courthouse annex to consider complaints which hav been received and to discuss methods of operation.

Several complaints were discussed by the Santa Ana Compliance board at a meeting of the chamber of commerce offices this morning. The nature of the complaints is not made public, because of the method of handling the complaints, which guarantees secrecy to the employe complaining.

Workers were Mrs. Edwards, Miss Mabel Head, Mrs. Genevieve Fording, Mrs. A. J. Woodworth, Mrs. Charles Ver Jones, Mrs. J. G. McCracken, Mrs. L. A. DAVID WETTLIN ADMITS THEFT FROM ESTATE which he had sent to his father covering a period of more than six years.

This money Wettlin said in his statement was sent to his father in an effort to extricate him from financial difficulties in which he had become entangled. In saving his father, Wettlin said, he allowed his personal obligations to become involved and borrowed from funds of the Haist estate in order to meet these obligations.

Borrows Money

He said that when he borrowed the money which represented the available cash in the estate, income from property and interest on a $5000 building and loan certificate, he expected to make restitution with interest before time for final settlement with the heirs.

"Instead of being able to repay the funds borrowed from the estate," Wettlin said, "things became steadily worse and I could not pay at the time set for distribution. I notified the heirs and offered to do anything in my power to make restitution.

"At one time they indicated they would accept $1000 cash and a note for the balance. My wife and myself utilized every avenue that offered help and raised the $1000 and were informed that the heirs would accept nothing but the entire amount of cash, so I am presenting myself to the law for the necessary procedure."

Wettlin told the district attorney that as the time for settlement approached he made a trip to his home in Mississippi in an effort to secure funds with which to repay the estate. The depression had made it impossible to secure assistance from relatives there, he said, and he returned and spent several days in Los Angeles in a fruitless attempt to raise the necessary cash. When all avenues for securing funds had been exhausted he returned to his home in Orange and told his wife of the shortage. This was the first word that she had of her husband's difficulties.

Mrs. Wettlin this morning said, "I regret this sad affair not only because it is my husband but because of the heirs who have lost that portion of the estate. I had no knowledge of thetrouble until my husband returned from Mississippi. I am going to stick to David and have made every effort to make restitution.

Gives Self Up

"We were unable to raise more money than the amount which had first been agreed on When we knew that the heirs would accept nothing less than complete restoration in cash I counselled with David and we agreed that the only course was for him to give himself over into the hands of the law."

Mrs. Wettlin said that she knew for several months that something was worrying her husband and preying on his mind but he declined to tell her what it was. Later he told her that so long as there was a hope of securing the necessary money he did not want to worry her.

The Haist estate consisting of a house and lot in Orange valued at $3000 with a monthly income of $20; a $5000 certificate in the Orange Building and Loan Association; and $3000 cash in the Orange Saving Bank was divided among numerous heirs of the deceased. The majority of the heirs live in the east and mid-west. Local heirs are Julia Sieckert, 816 North Parton street, Santa Ana; John Gackstetter, of Orange, and Mrs. Susan Johnson, of Ontario.

SECTION REVIEWS CHICAGO HISTORY

ORANGE, Oct. 10.—The Travel section of the Orange Woman's club met yesterday afternoon in the clubhouse lobby to discuss the early history of Chicago. Mrs. Flora B. Johnson, president, reviewed a portion of "The Tale of Chicago," by Edgar Lee Masters, and during the program it was brought out that yesterday marked the 100th anniversary of the great Chicago fire.

The early history of the city was discussed by Miss Emma Corson and it was related that the history of the city dated back to early settlements on the shore of Lake Michigan by the Indians.

A Score for the Dane—Litter-ally Speaking

Great Danes can sometimes have great families. Take, for example, Theda Bara II, who broke something of a world's record by giving birth to 20 puppies at Glens Falls, N. Y., where she's shown with her enormous litter. Dr. W. F. Jones, owner, plans to send one of the little fellows to President Roosevelt.

The 18th amendment will remain in force, however, until Dec. 5 when the 36th ratification convention is held.

The Florida wet campaign, based largely on efforts to get out the vote, ended last night at Tampa where Postmaster General James A. Farley urged repeal as a part of the national recovery program and predicted Florida would vote repeal by 2 1-2 to 1.

Dry leaders claimed confidence of victory after a campaign conducted largely through churches. They admitted they were handicapped by a confusing ballot.

Polls opened at 8 a. m. and will close at sunset, officially set at 6:03 P. M. Est.

Wet voters had the comparatively simple task of putting "X" marks before the names of the 67 candidates pledged for repeal and listed in one column.

But the drys have only eight candidates pledged against repeal and to vote for 67 candidates must remember the names of 60 drys listed with 41 wets in the unpledged column. The unpledged candidates are listed alphabetically with nothing to indicate their personal sentiments.

FIRE-DAMAGED BUILDING TO BE REPAIRED

Rebuilding of the two-story building at Fourth and Van Ness streets, formerly occupied by the Santa Ana Storage and Transfer company and gutted by fire early in July, was in progress this week under the direction of R. C. McMillan, general contractor.

W. E. Dixon, owner of the building, took out a $10,000 building permit yesterday for the remodeling of the large structure. All the burned furniture, flooring and equipment has been removed during the past few days.

According to tentative plans, a slab concrete floor will be poured on the first floor, the second story refloored with wood and the entire interior refinished. A Lamella trussless roof, said to be the first in Santa Ana, will be installed with a span of 65 feet in width and 80 feet in length.

The fire which swept the building was the most spectacular in recent years. It was estimated there was from $50,000 to $60,000 damage to the building and contents, since the second floor was filled with furniture and other goods in storage. Firemen fought the blaze from about 8 p. m. until 2:30 a. m. before the flames could be extinguished.

S. A. WALNUT PLANT SHIPS 5 CARLOADS

Five carloads of walnuts have been shipped from the plant of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association since the packing house opened late last month for the season, according to Manager A. E. Confer.

Confer said the quality of nuts this year is even better than anticipated and that the walnuts in this section are of exceptional quality.

Members of the board of directors of the local association were planning to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the California Walnut Growers' Exchange in Los Angeles this afternoon. It is possible that prices may be set for the year at the meeting, provided the tentative marketing code for the walnut industry has been accepted.

TO SERVE SENTENCE

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By J. GORDON ALLARD
Certified Culbertson Teacher

Last week I discussed the opening notrump bid and responses not vulnerable. This article will take up the vulnerable opening notrump and the procedure of the responding hand.

Before you may open with one notrump vulnerable the hand must contain at least a minimum of four honor tricks and, of course, no bidable suit. It is exceedingly important that the hand contains at least this minimum, for otherwise the responses simply will not work out correctly. The responses, briefly, are as follows: (1) Holding 1 honor trick make a simple takeout with a five-card biddable suit.

(2) With about 1 1-2 to 2 honor tricks make a simple takeout or raise once.

(3) Holding 2 1-2 to 3 honor tricks make a forcing takeout or raise twice.

(4) Holding 3 1-2 to 4 honor tricks make a forcing takeout or raise to four notrump.

(5) With more than four honor tricks try for a slam with a forcing takeout or raise to five or six notrump. It is important to note that the four and five notrump used in this situation do not conform to the Culbertson Four-Five Notrump Convention.

It is necessary that Contract players keep clearly in mind the differences in the requirements for the various responses to the opening vulnerable and non-vulnerable notrump bids.

The following is an excellent example of an opening vulnerable notrump bid.

South opens with one notrump, North holding 1 1-2 honor tricks and no biddable suit raises to two notrump, and South holding an additional one-half honor trick over the required minimum of four, goes to three notrump.

Anyone desiring further information upon the subject discussed or any phase of the Culbertson System may obtain from Mr. Allard by writing him at Eli P. Clark Hall, Claremont, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelop. Furthermore, suggestions as to the subjects to be discussed in these weekly articles in the future will be very welcome.

NO PLANS MADE TO REPLACE BUILDING

No plans for the immediate building on the property at 207 East Fourth street, which has just been razed, are being considered by owners of the property, the First National bank, it was learned today.

The building was one of the landmarks of Santa Ana, having been erected in 1887. It was so badly damaged in the March earthquake that it was believed better to tear it down, rather than leave it standing, bank officials said.

The building was occupied for many years by the Chicago Clothing store. Officials of the bank said that if the property is sold, new owners might erect a building, but that no plans are being considered now for building.

COMPARES ALTRUISM AND SELFISHNESS

F. L. Carrier addressed members of Santa Ana Junior college Y. M. C. A. at its regular dinner meeting held last night in the college cafeteria on "The Two Dominating Characteristics of Human Beings —Selfishness and Altruism."

Carrier brought out the fact that selfishness tends to destroy and break down society while altruism or love for other people takes care of society. He was optimistic and felt that altruism would work out in the end.

Announcement was made concerning the Junior college Y. M. C. A. Conference to be held next Saturday and Sunday at Occidental college. Austin Joy of the local college is program chairman for the conference.

Many Visitors Make Use Of New Park

More than 900 persons have taken advantage of the new park facilities in the past 20 days at Jack Fisher park on North Flower street, it was shown in a report made to the city council last night by A. H. Larrabee, park custodian and J. L. McBride, city engineer.

During the period from September 16 to October 8, 907 persons used the park to eat meals, an average of 45 per day. Many more visited the new park but did not use the picnic tables and ovens, Larrabee reported. Grass and shrubs will be developed in the near future and other improvements installed along the north bank of the Santiago Creek, where the park is located.

CARTER GLASS TO CHALLENGE NRA LEGALITY

S. Johnson, recovery administrator.

One of the most serious blows NRA has received came from Henry Ford who did not sign the automobile code and thereby failed to obtain the blue eagle insignia for his products. Some within the recovery administration are said to feel now that this incident interferred with the original hopes for stamping the blue eagle so thoroughly with the mark of public approval that anyone who lost it would incur what General Johnson referred to as a "sentence of economic death."

EDITH CURRY AND R. EMERSON MARRY

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 10. — Miss Edith Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Curry of Placentia, and Ralph Emerson, son of Mrs. Dessa Emerson of this place, were united in marriage October 7 at 8 o'clock in the Baptist church at a pretty ceremony performed by candlelight.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Horace Hempshell, sister of the groom, sang, "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Maud Schumacher, who also played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party entered the church.

The bride wore a blue satin semi-formal gown with black satin slippers and carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds. She was attended by Miss Mary Healey, who was dressed in a blue crepe with a corsage of white rose buds. The groom was attended by Ivan Rhodes of Fullerton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Elmer Lyon, pastor of the church. The altar was decorated with baskets of dahlias and ferns.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 10. —(To the Editor of The Register:) The British are over here now talking to us about debts. That's one thing you got to say for them: they were the first to pay us anything, and even if they are not going to pay us any more, they at least come over and talk it over with us. And if ever a different settlement is made they certainly deserve the first break.

We dislike their tea, we kid their poor English dialect, and we think they are snobbish, but, by golly, we know that their honor all over the world is recognized.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

regard to what form of legal action he would take. The ousted commissioner at his old quarters busied himself cleaning up the business of the commission which had been assigned to him prior to his removal.

The sign "Commissioner Humphrey" still hung above his door.

Many letters supporting his challenge of the validity of the president's removal order were received at his office today. Many of them were unsigned. Some were written in illiterate scrawls while others bore the addresses of some of the city's most exclusive hotels and apartment houses.

ABDICATION OF TAMMANY HEAD IS DEMANDED

Kee, and LaGuardia in November.

O'Brien, of course, had known all along, but an occasion was needed to launch the Tammany campaign.

The intense interest already aroused by the three-cornered race was shown in first day registration figures. In virtually every district of the city's five boroughs more voters registered yesterday than in the corresponding registration day for last year's presidential election.

O'Brien who has been lampooned by the majority of the press almost from the day he took office, and who has been booed at prize fights and parades, announced yesterday that henceforth he will not see reporters. Any questions from the press will have to be submitted in writing. The answers will be dictated to a stenographer, mimeographed, and proof-read by the mayor himself. The idea is to prevent "misquotations."

LOWELL SCHOOL ROOM WINNER OF FREE SHOW

That interest in fire prevention work in Santa Ana is increasing annually, was demonstrated today with the announcement by John Henderson, chairman of the chamber of commerce fire prevention committee, that the fire prevention campaign here this year, launched yesterday as a part of the national movement, has met with immediate interest of school children.

Henderson announced that immediately after the announcement in The Register yesterday of the contest for a home inspection contest in which rooms of elementary schools would be given a free show if the room reported 100 per cent first in the contest, this morning reports started coming in.

The fifth grade of Lowell school was the first reporting room, and will win the prize, which is a matinee at Walker's State theater next Tuesday afternoon. Mildred Mead, principal of the school, called Henderson at 8:55 o'clock this morning to report that the room had secured 100 per cent cooperation of parents of students in the fire prevention program by getting the cards signed.

Mrs. Hazel Maxwell, principal of Edison school, called at 10:24 a. m. today to report that the sixth grade of the school was 100 per cent enrolled.

Because of the intense interest in the campaign this year, Vic Walker, manager of the theater, has agreed that the three first reporting rooms will be given the free show. The third winner was not known today.

Fire drill contests also will be staged this week.

HISTORIC SPOTS ARE GOALS OF MEXICO CRUISE

A week's stay in Mexico City, which will permit visits to such contrasting spectacles as the presidential palace and the bull fight of Spanish tradition, will crown the 18-day itinerary on which Orange and San Diego county citizens will set sail November 4, according to information disclosed today by directors of the cruise to Mexico. Detailed plans of the trip were revealed with the release of the itinerary charted for the Southern California party.

The viewing of miles of orchids, of the second most beautiful street in the world, of pyramids believed to antedate those of Egypt, and of gardens which for centuries have floated between natural canals are among scenes awaiting the invaders from this section, it was learned.

Scheduled to arrive in Mexico City November 9, after a three and one-half day cruise down the Lower California and Mexico coasts to Manzanillo, picturesque Mexican port, and an approach by trivate train via Guadaljara, second city of Mexico and of pure Spanish tradition, the Orange county party will make headquarters at the Hotel Geneve in the Mexican capital.

The city will afford a convenient point of departure for private automobile excursions to Puebla and its pyramid of Cholulu; to Guadalupe, known as the "Notre Dame of Mexico," and the pyramids; and finally to Cuernavaca, winter home of the conqueror Cortez and now the home of American ambassadors. A special excursion will carry tht Southern California travelers to the floating gardens of Xochimilco for a cruise through the natural waterways, and thence off the beaten tourist path to Taxco for an afternoon in a Mexican village of native charms.

Continuing the trip by motor, the Orange county folk will travel to Acapulco over the mountain highway regarded as one of the most scenic in Mexico, timing their arrival at Acapulco Bay to reach the S. S. Talamanca for the sail north November 17. A final water lap of three and one-half days will bring the local travelers, on November 21, into the port of Wilmington.

2500 Acre Feet Water Impounded In Santiago Dam

ORANGE, Oct. 10.—Despite the fact that water for irrigation purposes has been taken from Santiago dam for a period of two years with little water added to the supply by last year's rainfall, the amount of water now impounded at the dam is estimated at 2500 acre feet, according to dam records.

Dam records reveal that the smallest amount of rainfall was recorded last year. The first rainfall records were kept in 1921.

The greatest amount of water impounded in the dam since its completion two years ago was 10,000 acre feet, less than half its capacity of 25,000 acre feet. Records are kept of the underground flow entering the dam and of the evaporation. Water at the tower measures 49 feet at present.

Dictatorship In Russia Subject At Forum Tonight

"My Fourteen Days Among the Soviets" will be the subject of Dr. Frederick W. Roman tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the People's Forum in the Temple theater, Third and Bush streets. This is the second in the series of Dr. Roman's lectures on the dictatorships of Italy, Germany, and Russia.

Dr. Roman is putting great stress on the need of Americans to defend their constitutional rights of free speech, a free press, and the right of assembly. "These rights which are dear to the heart of every American would disappear over-night in the event of a dictatorship such as is advocated in many quarters. These essentials of democracy have been lost in Russia, Germany and Italy."

The public is invited to this free lecture.

ANNEXATION OF SCHOOL COMES BEFORE COURT

Hearing on a petition to annex the Centralia school district with the Buena Park district has been set for October 17 before the board of supervisors. At the time notice of the petition and hearing was filed with the board this morning by County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson a protest and request to annex the district to Cypress school district was filed.

In the original petition, signed by more than 40 persons in the district, the annexation was sought on the grounds that the Centralia school was so badly damaged during the earthquake that it could not be repaired.

The petition said that because of the small area comprising the district, the district's low assessed valuation and the fact that attendance at the school is small it would be impossible to build the school. For the same reasons it was said that it would be impossible to maintain a school in the district and give the children the same advantages offered by the Buena Park school where the majority of them are attending at this time.

The petition signed by eight heads of families asked annexation to the Cypress district on the grounds that the Cypress school is nearer to the homes of signers of the petition and many of the children are already attending school there. They also said property nearer the school is more valuable.

BARBERS MAKE OBJECTIONS TO PRICE BOOSTS

A delegation of five Orange county barbers, headed by Alvin Bauer, Santa Ana, will appear before Commissioner of Corporations Edwin Daugherty at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the State building in Los Angeles, to protest the increase in haircutting prices as provided for in the state code, it was announced today following a meeting of Orange county barbers in the chamber of commerce office here yesterday.

Five barbers, one from Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach, will attend the hearing. The delegation will take with it a petition signed by Orange county barbers asking that the old price of 50 cents for a haircut be retained instead of increasing it to 65 cents.

According to local barbers, all operators of barber shops in the southern part of the county have signed the petition and agreed 100 per cent on keeping the price at 50 cents. Work was being completed today in the northern part of the county in getting the petition signed.

EXPECT STATE TO START WORK ON BEACH ROAD

South Palm street from its present extremity south of Anaheim, will be extended to Costa Mesa, if present provisions of specifications now being prepared by the state highway commission are carried out, according to announcement by Phil A. Stanton, highway commissioner.

The street, known as the Buaro road cutoff, will be extended to Costa Mesa if the plans under consideration are carried out, according to Stanton, who just returned from Sacramento after attending a session of the commission.

Stanton believes that the Buaro road project will be ready to advertise within a short time. The advertising will require three weeks, after which construction is expected to be under way within a few days.

A more direct route from northern Orange county to Newport Beach is the reason for the project, it was stated. If the plan is carried out, it will require the construction of a bridge. Pavement already is installed on most of the route to be followed, it was said.

STABILIZATION PLAN SOUGHT BY NAVEL GROWERS

Stabilization of the new navel orange crop will be considered Thursday at Riverside when the farm bureau's citrus stabilization committee meets. The conference was called by Dr. D. D. Waynick, Santa Ana, chairman of the group.

The stabilization plan for the navel crop, according to Waynick, will be on the same basis that has governed this summer's Valencia crop.

Citrus interests of Orange county will be represented at the conference by Waynick, John Crill, J. E. Baker and Perry Mathis.

Although the committee desires to insure continuance of the stabilization plan through the navel season, the national marketing agreements will be in force in time to affect the coming California crop, is the belief of Bruce W. McDaniel, general counsel for Mutual Orange Distributors.

CCC Camps Topic For Tri-Counties Advisory Council

Discussion of plans for future operations of Civilian Conservation corps camps in Southern California occupied members of the Tri-County Advisory board at a meeting held last night in Riverside. George A. Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, and member of the group, attended the meeting. Other secretaries from Orange county also attended.

Col. H. H. Arnold, of March Field, discussed the CCC program in this section. He announced that CCC camps which have been located in the mountains will be moved in valley during the winter months to avoid the snow and cold. Death Valley will receive several of the camps, he said.

Frank G. Ashbrook, of the division of natural resources, working on a biological survey for the government, spoke briefly at the meeting. He told of investigations being made in Fontana on rabbit fur and meat industries.

The board again will meet at March Field with the Associated hambers of Commerce of Riverside county on October 24 to inspect March Field, it was decided at the meeting.

SAYS GIFTS TO CHEST REDUCE CRIME COSTS

"It costs $2.36 per person in California to take care of crime and criminals, and we all pay it through taxation. This year the Santa Ana Community Chest is asking but $1.10 per person to support its welfare, preventive and character building agencies."

Mrs. F. E. Coulter, advisory executive in the Community Chest appeal of October 16 to 23, made this statement in pointing out that prevention is the key word in Chest work.

"Chest agencies feed hungry men, provide shelter for the wandering and the jobless, build character into boys and girls, take care of unfortunate mothers and babes, build the youth physically, provide directed play in leisure hours. Every one of these things does something immediate and substantial for the recipient and builds for the future. Temptation is removed and reserve strength is given. It is preventive work in a wide field.

"The budget for preventive work in Santa Ana is less than one-half the cost of crime per capita. Let's spend just a little of our income for preventive social and welfare activities and thereby reduce the crime tax bill," Mrs. Coulter concluded.

"PAY CHEST PLEDGE AS YOU EARN"

"Pay your Community Chest pledge as you earn. That is my advice to any person. No great and immediate sacrifice is necessary on the part of any individual to raise the 1933 Community Chest goal of $33,500," was the statement made today by W. K. Hillyard, acting president of the Community Chest. He pointed out that all eight Chest agencies operate on a budget and that a prorata of pledges paid in future months will keep all agencies functioning.

"A part should be paid with every pledge," Hillyard said. "If the pledge is for more than $5 it should be paid in not more than four payments, the last not later than next August 1. A pledge of $1 or less should be paid in cash. Pledges of $2 to $5, can readily be divided between the cash payment and the one or two other installments spaced several months apart."

STEVEDORES BUSY

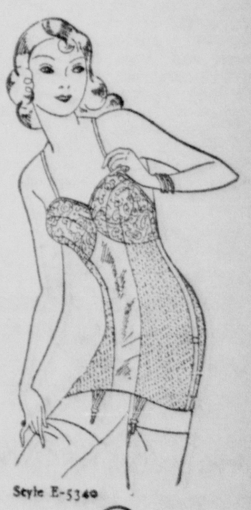

EVERETT, Wash. (UP)—Longshoremen had their day here when more of them worked in a three-day stretch than they had at any time in the last three years. Five large boats docked at ports here and every idle stevedore, including those in nearby districts, was given work.

P.-T. A. HOLDS FIRST SESSION OF FALL TERM

FULLERTON, Oct. 10. — "Our School This Year" was the featured subject last night when Fullerton Union High school and District Junior College Parent-Teacher association met for the first session of the season at the library of the school, with Mrs. J. D. Hardy presiding.

The program, as an opening to the theme, "Responsibility," and the plans, "Planned Co-operation," featured the resume of school activity, with toasts being given by the various heads of student activity, and with a short talk by Louis E. Plummer, principal of the schools.

Mrs. Hardy outlined the plans and in turn introduced student heads. Odell Whitfield, president of the high school student body, presented a toast to "The Student Body." Following him, Mildred Gallagher, president of the Girls' league, presented her toast "To Plans of the Girls' League." Paul Butler, president of the Hi-Y, toasted the Hi-Y and Helen Whitaker presented a toast "To Girl Reserves," while Dan O'Hanlon jr. presented a toast "To the Pliad Society."

The ideals of the faculty, as presented by the principal, are for character building, and for assisting students to fit into a scheme of social building in life's work, he told the assembly.

Following the toasts, Gordon Drew, accompanied at the piano by Miss Charlotte Davis, sang "Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Macusla." A string trio, Mary Ruth Moll, violin, Dora May Hale, 'cello, and Barbara Nye, pianist, presented "In the Garden of My Heart" and "Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Mrs. Hardy introduced Mrs. Neiman, membership chairman, and Mrs. E. E. McClure, of La Habra, in charge of program. Mrs. McClure introduced a new method of entertainment, and scattering the parents and teachers, seating parents between a teacher, asked all present to tell all he or she had learned concerning the other and the courses taken in school by the children of the parents. After that method of getting acquainted, the meeting adjourned to assemble again November 13 at the school. The study section will meet November 21 with Mrs. C. A. Neighbors on Brookhurst road.

After her talk and a discussion, a vote was taken to determine what activities were most interesting to the women. HAPPY days are usually healthy days. Why not add to these sunshiny days!

Poor health and constipation go hand in hand. Get rid of common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid regularity. ALL-BRAN is also twice as rich in iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much better than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Editor Register:

The Day Nursery located at 610 Garfield street is under the auspices of the Ebell club.

The house is large and attractively clean, the yard is spacious and equipped for the comfort of children.

There are 14 little beds and the young children nap after their noon lunch.

There are two most capable matrons in charge of the nursery from 5:30 a. m. until the last child is called for in the evening.

A small fee is charged for the care of the children.

We are equipped to take care of several more children and I take this means of informing any working mother of this day home for her child. It is a splendid place for any mother to leave a child for even a few hours while she is shopping or attending an afternoon party.

Chairman Day Nursery Board,
Mrs. Richard O. Hinchler, 2310 N. Park Blvd. Phone 3701.

To the Editor Register:

Dear Sir: It was with great pleasure that I read your enunciation of "one" of the fundamental principles of American democracy, viz., Free Speech; and it would be well for those "would-be dictators of Orange county" to read, and re-read your sound, logical, reasonable editorial of Oct. 5th and by doing so, maybe "they" will be able to acquire at least a faint understanding of what The Fathers of the American Constitution had in mind when they deliberately inserted the word "Free" as an adjective to the words "Speech, Press and Assembly." The founders of the American Republic knew from experience something of dictatorship as practiced by the British authorities in their day and age. They knew what it meant to be dictated to by people who had something to hide, and it is only those who have something to hide that fear free speech.

The professional agitators may agitate until they are black in the face, and they will not interest a corporal's guard unless there is injustice; remove injustice, and you remove agitation and these self-appointed protectors of ours surely wouldn't defend injustice?

With respect to our Santa Ana Forum I would suggest that our present method of procedure be changed to the following method: The speaker of the evening to be given forty-five minutes to present his case. The following fifteen minutes to be given over to questions pertaining to the subject under discussion. Then a period of five minute talks by anyone desirous of expressing themselves for or against the principal speaker's opinions and a final ten minute rebuttal period for the speaker of the evening.

Hoping that the foregoing suggestion will be acted upon by the Forum chairman, and that the would-be dictators of Orange County will attend these meetings, and that they will be capable of taking the floor and expressing themselves intelligently on behalf of their individual ideas.

R. J. LEWIS,
818 1-2 N. Van Ness St.
Santa Ana.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

INTERVENTION

Regardless of all the diplomatic reassurances you may see the Roosevelt Administration is convinced the Island of Cuba is a keg of dynamite that may blow at any minute.

What course we shall pursue when and if the fuse is touched off is keeping the State Department awake at nights and chaining President Roosevelt to his office.

Uncle Sam, because of the Platt Amendment, is responsible not only for his own citizens there but is expected to protect the nationals of other lands as well.

Secretary of State Hull and his assistants keep talking down the idea of intervention. In this they are speaking from the book.

Mr. Roosevelt had passed word down the line he doesn't want our marines and sailors landing and taking over the situation except as an extreme resort. Too many factors are at stake. This government is well aware that certain European capitals would be only too glad to see us do so.

Then they could stir up the old Latin-American antagonism to "Uncle Sam the oppressor," step in personally, and improve their Central and South American trade at our expense.

Naval officers in command of our ships in Cuban waters have secret orders exhaustively covering their course of action in event of trouble.

At the first sign that shooting is becoming so general as to endanger the lives of Americans and other foreigners they are to put their small boats ashore, gather up all possible Americans, British and other nationalities and evacuate them to the safety of our warships.

There is to be no shooting on the part of our forces unless it is absolutely necessary to save a foreigner's life.

SOLDIERS

Privately Washington officials are anticipating the eventual necessity of pulling all possible aliens out of Havana.

President Grau San Martin has been ruling Cuba for more than a month with only the support of several thousand troops and a student body. Taxes are NOT being collected and no revenues are coming in to the Cuban treasury. The troops will be loyal to Grau San Martin (or anybody else) only as long as they get paid.

When funds run out to keep the professional fighter happy, then Washington looks for trouble with a capital T.

DECISION

Competent observers have reported confidentially to the State Department it is their opinion a general and bloody revolution will break immediately in the wake of any desertion of Grau San Martin by his troops.

Reports that were coming in the day before President Roosevelt addressed the American Legion in Chicago were so black the Executive didn't make up his mind finally to go until two hours before train time. That last minute announcement of the Chicago trip wasn't window dressing to dramatize Mr. Roosevelt's appearance before the veterans.

Telegrams were pouring into Hyde Park that night. The President had Secretary Hull on the long distance phone several times. At one stage of the evening he had about decided to hurry back to Washington.

LOSSES

Badgered and harassed from all sides for their inability to get money flowing into actual payrolls, officials of the Public Works Administration are complaining privately they are being stymied in the South and West by state laws and financial conditions.

They could get the ball rolling all right, say the Public Workers—by awarding a lot of outright money grants and letting the Federal treasury shoulder the whole burden.

But this wouldn't be fair to those who have come in already and signed up for projects, 70 per cent of which are to be repaid.

A number of propositions have come in from the South and West where work could be started soon enough but Uncle Sam would kiss all his money good-bye forever.

In many instances states and municipalities in these sections are already up to the limit of their bonded indebtedness with prospects generally bad for the immediate future at least.

To increase their indebtedness special elections would have to be called, a given percentage of the registered voters would have to turn out and a given percentage of that percentage would have to okay going more into hock.

So far Secretary-Administrator Ickes has been sticking by his guns and trying to invest the emergency money where there is a chance that some of it will come back.

It may be he will have to revise his policy. There are those who contend the money was appropriated by Congress to meet a grave emergency. The emergency is some 11,000,000 unemployed.

The big idea, say those now pressing Public Works, is to get those people back to work—or as many as possible of them—and count the losses later.

NAZIS

The rumpus in Berlin over the appointment of a new Minister of Defence has international significance for Administration experts.

Von Papen and his allies want to keep supreme command of the Reichswehr from falling altogether into the hands of the Nazis. The Nazi heads are determined to consolidate their position by appointing either Goering or Roehm to the War Ministry. The growing discontent in the Reichswehr ranks, due to the failure of Hitler to live up to his promises, calls for repressive measures without delay.

Trouble at home brings friction abroad nearer day by day.

NOTES

The Public Works Administration at least has a growing admiration for the Navy Department for producing. . . . At the snap of a finger they get planes to ride around in, men to do special work, photographs, special information, etc. . . . The hoboes' code is now in at NRA. . . . Over the impressive signature of "J. Leon B.-M. C. S. Lazarowitz, King of the Hoboes of North America," it says "every hobo in the entire United States pledges himself to boycott all products and pearsons (cq) not cooperating with the Presidential proclamation." . . . . A postscript requested all publicity, herewith extended.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

R. F. C.

The banking invalid is going to be lifted over the deposit insurance hurdle on cushions instead of having to jump it unaided.

Big banks and little banks alike have been making the government's ears ring with the lament that their system is in no state of health to leap that hurdle. A lot of smaller banks would be certain to trip and fall on their faces with a resulting solar plexus wallop to confidence and recovery. What the banks wanted was to get deposit insurance called off or modified or at least postponed.

What they will get is something else. Deposit insurance stands as arranged. But every bank—state and national—now opened will be placed in a position to qualify. How?

By simply padding the sore spots with extra capital provided by the government through the RFC.

That way depositors and guaranteeing banks have an extra margin of safety against losses from slow or bad assets.

ALL SHEEP

It is an important part of the plan that there shall be no distinction between sheep and goats—strong banks and weak ones. If only the banks that needed it borrowed capital the public might single them out for disfavor with probable unpleasant results as against those which did not.

Therefore all banks must join the party and the New York banks have been selected to lead the grand march because everyone knows they are strong. No odium can attach to any bank which follows their example. That's why Jesse Jones has been so hell-bent on securing the cooperation of local institutions.

CAPITAL

He's got it too. The local Clearing House banks had a beautiful wrangle among themselves. No two of them could agree on method for a while. But every last one of them will soon announce an increase of capital and the big parade will be launched.

The only thing is it won't be done on the government's plan. The banks just couldn't see the sense of paying 4 per cent for capital they didn't want and bringing the government's men on their boards. So a number of them have arranged a game of ring-around-the-rosy which will cost them practically nothing. Bank A will sell its capital notes to bank B instead of to the RFC. Bank B in turn will sell to bank C, bank C to bank D, and bank D to bank A. The amounts will be approximately equal among banks of the same size and the interest charges will be uniform. So the interest will just cancel out and the extra capital won't cost the participants more than a few bucks for accounting.

They asked Mr. Jones if this was O. K. He said yes. It remains to be seen whether banks which borrow from the RFC are viewed in the same light as those which simply borrow from each other.

CAPITAL

At that the New York banks sold the government a bill of goods to compensate for their cooperation.

They have definite assurance that the government will make no effort to horn in on their credit policy. That was part of the arrangement. They also have reason to hope that they will not be held up to scorn again for failure to loosen up on credit.

They finally put across the idea that what industry needs is capital credit and not short term commercial loans. And they inferred strongly that it was up to the government to provide it because of the "disabilities" inflicted on private financing by the Securities Act.

The banks also point with pride to the gain of $53,000,000 in non-security loans in this district last week as evidence that they really do want to lend money.

SHELVED

The projects of having the banks form a corporation to borrow from RFC and re-lend to NRA members who can't get credit otherwise has been temporarily shelved. Their cooperation on that line is not needed as urgently as in the matter of bank capital structures.

MONEY

Informed New Yorkers say it's a fair question to ask where all the money is coming from to put over this RFC bank program. Latest inside estimates indicate a further increase of the public debt to almost $30,000,000,000 within a year. The New York banks have an idea they will be invited to swallow huge blocks of government securities to finance the Federal credit program and they aren't exactly cheering at the prospect.

JOHNSTON

Percy Johnston of the Chemical Bank—new Chairman of the New York Clearing House Committee—is more sympathetic to the New Deal than most of his colleagues. He was one of the few New York bankers who supported Roosevelt in the election last year and has served on the local NRA committee. He used to be a national bank examiner and his viewpoint is not limited to the strictly Wall Street angle.

BRUERE

Insiders understand that Henry Bruere's new job in Washington will consist of advising the President how to spend money more rapidly as well as how to raise more to spend. Reports that the job will lead to an appointment as Secretary of the Treasury are not taken seriously although it might happen.

Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood traveled 20,000 miles on that recent tour of theirs . . . and played 80 matches en route . . . losing only two. . . . It seems that a sophomore is going to steal Frank Froschauer's stuff at Illinois this year. . . . MULE FROM THE MARINES

Purdue is being mentioned as a team that hay beat out Michigan for the Big Ten championship this fall. If it should turn out that way, a lot of the credit would fall upon the shoulders of one of the old "Mules" of Notre Dame—and an ex-marine at that—Noble Kizer.

Nobody ever stepped into a tougher coaching assignment than Kizer took over three years ago, when Jimmy Phelan, after winning a championship, left the Indiana institution to go west. Kizer was left with a handful of veterans of the great team.

BUILDING A LINE

At Notre Dame he had been a guard on the Four Horsemen team. He and "Rip" Miller, now coaching at Navy, were regarded by Rockne as the best guards he ever had. So at Purdue it was expected that he would produce strong lines. As a matter of fact, Purdue has had some splendid backfields during Kizer's three years, including the 1933 outfit, and Kizer's main worry has been to build that line.

With all but two of his regular linemen of last year lost by graduation, the young coach from Plymouth, Ind., finds himself again with a job on his hands.

Kizer happens to be one of the men who went to Notre Dame to study. After returning from a stretch in the marines, he finished his high school course at Plymouth. He starred at basketball, and though he received many invitations from schools where the cage was strong, he chose Notre Dame, because it was near his home. His mother was in ill health.

HOW HE BECAME COACH

Rockne noticed Kizer as a freshman, and placed him at regular guard on the varsity in 1922, 1923 and 1924. In '24, the year of the Four Horsemen, Kizer was picked on every team as All-Western guard and made many All-American elevens.

It was incidental that he became line coach at Purdue with Phelan. After graduation he took a job with the Studebaker corporation at South Bend, and Prexy Erskine granted him leave to help put some power in that Purdue line. That's how he became a coach.

When Kizer's mother died in 1924, the entire student body at Notre Dame visited the little Methodist church in Plymouth for the funeral service.

Saints Prepare For First Conference Game

That Bruising Boilermaker Backfield

Upholding the tradition of Purdue backfields, these four men are expected to star this year on the Big Ten gridiron . . . left to right, Duane Purvis, Pardonner, Hecker and Carter. . . . They're expected to carry Purdue to the midwest championship this year, and maybe National honors, too.

PASADENA ONE OF FAVORITES FOR '33 TITLE

Undefeated in their own conference since 1930, the two-time champion Santa Ana Saints play the first of five Coast Preparatory league football games at Pasadena Friday afternoon.

In this case, the first promises to be one of the hardest, and it already is a foregone conclusion that the two-time champions will go to the firing pit decided shortenders. Pasadena's impressive victories in non-league games with Ventura, Lincoln, South Pasadena and Cathedral look much better—on paper at least—than Santa Ana's setbacks by Santa Barbara and Covina.

The Saints open at Pasadena, then return here for jousts with San Diego, Fullerton and Glendale. After a week's bye on account of the U. S. C.-Stanford game Armistice Day, hostilities will be resumed here against Alhambra and concluded, a week later, at Long Beach. If Santa Ana can win at Pasadena the outlook won't be bad at all because the Saints' next three conference starts will be made at Poly Field, a decided advantage.

Believe Race Wide Open

Most observers believe the Coast league's race will be a wide open "dog fight" with every school except Glendale having a chance to win, and Long Beach, the outstanding favorite, conceded only a slight edge over Pasadena and San Diego. No team is likely to complete its schedule undefeated as Santa Ana has done for two years.

For several years a conference doormat, Pasadena returned to power in '32. Beaten only by Santa Ana, John Thurman's Bulldogs finished a bang-up second to "Tex" Oliver's Saints, and Thurman retained enough veterans to make his present organization strong in every respect. Jim Tunney, coach at Lincoln Hi, was duly impressed after Pasadena had routed what Tunney thought was his very fair Lincoln team. "If Pasadena doesn't win the Coast league championship I should hate to meet the team that does," was Tunney's significant comment.

Reese Greene, Santa Ana's assistant coach and scout, who watched Pasadena three times, agrees that the Bulldogs would be hard to beat. Greene saw them take Lincoln, 25-0; South Pasadena, 6-2, and Pasadena 20-0. Previously, Pasadena won from Ventura, 26-0.

Pasadena Has Six Veterans

Thurman's six lettermen are Captain Worden Nollar, left tackle; Ned Thomas and Bob Wegge, ends; Norman Martin, center, and Kenneth Cotton and Bob Layng, backs. "Doc" Wright and Harry Acquarelli, the latter Pasadena's greatest "find" in years, team up with Cotton and Layng in the backfield. Acquarelli, 160, is a flashy quarterback of speed and shiftiness, the smallest man in a burly backfield. Cotton and Layng come in around 180, Wright at 165. Layng is chiefly a blocker, but does Pasadena's kicking and most of its passing. He is probably the ablest pass-caster in the league.

Santa Ana yesterday began work in dead earnest for the Pasadena invasion. The Saints aren't going to relinquish their precious titles without a real fight. Coach Bill Foote still believes his squad has possibilities, even for a victory Friday, and will stress blocking all week in an effort to get moving the Saint offense that stalled against Covina. He also will devote plenty of attention to a defense for Pasadena plays in practice Wednesday and Thursday.

A scrimmage this afternoon will be the only heavy work of the week because the Saints are in good condition physically and Foote hesitates to take a chance on losing any regulars with his reserves so light and inexperienced. Ray Clark, a right halfback, is the only player definitely out of action. Clark had a bone chipped in his ankle when he was clipped in the Covina contest, and will not see action for several weeks.

Oct. 13—Santa Ana at Pasadena.
Oct. 14—San Diego at Alhambra; Long Beach at Glendale.
Oct. 21—San Diego at Santa Ana; Alhambra at Long Beach; Pasadena at Glendale.
Oct. 27—Bye for all schools; Santa Ana plays non-league game at Fullerton.
Nov. 4—Glendale at Santa Ana; Long Beach at San Diego; Alhambra at Pasadena.
Nov. 11—Bye for all schools (U. S. C. vs. Stanford).
Nov. 18—Alhambra at Santa Ana; Glendale at San Diego; Pasadena at Long Beach.
Nov. 25—Santa Ana at Long Beach; San Diego at Pasadena; Glendale at Alhambra.

BRUINS, LOYOLA TO COLLIDE NEXT WEEK

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Meeting for the first time since 1924, Loyola and U. C. L. A. inaugurate a new "city series" in football when the two teams play at the Coliseum a week from Saturday. The game looms as one of two "naturals" on the Bruins' home schedule, California being the other.

JAYSEE TEAMS OPEN FOOTBALL RACE SATURDAY

This is "opening week" in Eastern jaysee conference football circles, with Riverside at Pomona; Chaffey at Citrus; San Bernardino at Fullerton. Santa Ana draws a bye in the first round of competition but keeps busy by playing the U. C. L. A. freshmen at the Bowl Friday night.

Santa Ana and Fullerton transferred from the Western to the Eastern division last year, and with their help the Eastern conference has developed football teams equally as strong as the Western league which includes Pasadena, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Glendale, Santa Monica and Ventura.

Riverside, defending champion of the Eastern league, and Chaffey always have been tough customers. Santa Ana, winner of the Southern California championship in '29 and seldom without a strong squad; and Fullerton, whose teams always manage to defeat the favorites, have added prestige to Eastern ranks, and at the same time Citrus, San Bernardino and Pomona have improved rapidly. Citrus, smallest school of the circuit, has made tremendous strides under Al Clayes, one-time Santa Ana jaysee backfield hero.

Some followers see a championship ahead for the talented Dons, while others look over the material of other teams and rate Santa Ana no higher than third in early predcitions. In Saturday's games, Riverside and Fullerton are favored to win from Pomona and San Bernardino, respectively, but Burt Heiser's powerful Chaffey Panthers will run into all kinds of trouble against the Citrus Owls in their game at Azusa.

When the U. C. L. A. freshmen, boasting several members of the Urban team that Santa Ana barely defeated last fall, come here to furnish the Dons with their final non-conference opposition, Santa Ana followers will be able to compare their team with that of the Riverside Bengals, who defeated the Westwood yearlings, 24-14, at Riverside last week.

Bill Spaulding jr., son of the U. C. L. A. varsity coach, and Fred Funk, former Los Angeles high school halfback who will be remembered for his exceptional punting for Urban here in '32, are two of the standouts of the Westwood babes.

Now that Ray Hapes and Walt Devine, quarterback and tackle who were considered two of Santa Ana's finest freshmen players, have deserted the Dons to enroll at the University of Mississippi, Coach Cook must revamp his two backfields. The departure of the former Garden Grove stars will handicap the Dons more next season than during the current campaign. Hapes, however, was doing well at quarterback in Santa Ana's second backfield.

Charlie Bowdden, outside half, probably will vie with "Red" McDaniel for the vacant safety position, Cook indicated today. The first-string backfield of Harold Welty, quarter; Harry McInteer and Wilburn Anderson, halfbacks, and "Porky" Bell, full, remains intact, although Cook also plans to continue using Anderson at fullback in another combination.

Ted Needham, husky backfield transfer from Chaffey, has been out of drill with an injured leg.... Miles Norton and Jack Fredericks who were injured in the Pomona varsity game Saturday, are still a bit shaken up, but will be ready for the U. C. L. A. game....Bob Bell, latest recruit from Texas, is being used at right tackle....Cook was well satisfied with the showings his forwards made at Claremont, and at present does not contemplate any changes in his regular line of Perinich and Slavin or Kroener, ends; Capt. Koral and Norton, tackles; Lukens and Nowotny, guards; and Hoar, center.

MORAGA — St. Mary's followers, still stunned by the Gaels' defeat by California, cheered up a bit today when it was learned that Yezerski, gigantic tackle, probably will be able to play Saturday against U. S. C. He was injured in the California contest. Physicians were not ready to report on probability of Ed Gilbert's return to action. The star guard also was hurt in the Cal. game.

BERKELEY—"Navy Bill" Ingram looked two weeks ahead today as California's Golden Bears resumed practices after their great victory over St. Mary's. Ingram started to point the Bears for the Washington State game, opening California's conference play Oct. 21. Next Saturday the Bears meet the Olympic club of San Francisco.

SANTA CLARA — Coach Maurice ("Clipper") Smith's surprising removal of two men from the varsity squad for alleged training rules infractions gave Santa Clara football players quite a jolt. Smith dismissed "for the rest of the season" Johnny Beckrich, star halfback from Santa Barbara, and Bernie Lindsey, reserve end from Merced. Santa Clara meets the San Diego Marines Sunday at San Diego.

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Oregon State coaches tried today to develop "goal line punch" in the team which meets University of San Francisco on the latter's home grounds Saturday. The Staters showed ground - gaining strength against Gonzaga last week but lost their drive when near the first line.

NOTRE DAME, Ind.—Hugh Devore, right end and the best Notre Dame performer last Saturday, will captain the Irish against Indiana at Bloomington, Coach Anderson announced.

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Iowa today was hailing a new star in Dick Crayne, sophomore ball carrier described as a "second Aubrey Devine." He averaged six yards every time he took the ball against Northwestern and reeled off sensational gains against Bradley Tech Saturday.

EVANSTON, Ill.—Smoother operation of Northwestern's backfield cheered Dick Hanley today as the Wildcats prepared for the Stanford game Saturday. Wally Cruice, sophmore right halfback, suddenly returned to the sensational form the youngster flashed in spring practice, reeling off consistent gains against a freshman eleven. Fullbacks Sutton and Duvall likewise got going, smashing the freshman defense for long gains.

FLAT PASS BLAMED FOR DONS' VICTORY

CLAREMONT, Oct. 10.—Last Saturday Pomona college lost its first football game of the season to Santa Ana jaysee by a 6-0 score. The Santa Anans were heavier than the Sagehens, but both teams appeared evenly matched. The game progressed from 20-yard line to 20-yard line, neither side being able to score or even get close to the goal.

The game doubtless would have ended in a scoreless tie had not Pomona's quarterback called for a flat pass over the line. The pass was intercepted by Santa Ana and run back for a touchdown. All this occurred in the last minute of play.

Without casting any cloud on the Santa Ana victory, the general consensus seemed to be that the game was a draw as far as actual football was concerned. However, alert sportswriters observed that it was this same pass by the same man that lost the Occidental game for Pomona last year.

Don Plumb, of Tustin, "white hope" for end, was this week ruled ineligible, and may be out for next two or three weeks. Sam Miller, bulky tackle, is still out of his suit with a side injury. Bob McCulley, another tackle, is suffering from knee and leg injuries, and will have to undergo careful handling for some time yet. "Fin" Walker, demon half, will be back in the line-up for the San Diego game this week-end, unless his ankle still bothers him. Temporarily, at least, the team as a whole looks pretty well shot, but the two sensational sophomores, Kinnear and Longacre, backs, are bolstering up Coach Nixon's fading hopes. As usual, the line is Pomona's weakest point.

REVEAL M'GRAW OFFER TO HEAD CHICAGO CUBS

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(INS)—Just to get everything down on the records in connection with various reports having to do with the New York Giants, now world's champions, and John J. McGraw, now a pensioner about the premises where once he was king, the set up today runs something like this: The Giants are for sale at what is delicately and chastely known as the right price and John J. McGraw is not.

There was a report the other day, for instance, that McGraw might be offered the presidency of the Chicago Cubs, succeeding the late Bill Veeck. This Mr. McGraw denied with considerable show of rancor. He seemed annoyed. He ought to be. It's enough to make any man mad to know that he might get a job like that and can't take it. McGraw is tied hand and foot to the Giants for a very sound reason, which will be explained subsequently and at some length.

Whitney Negotiating?

There was also a report yesterday which said that John Hay Whitney, millionaire sportsman, was negotiating for the purchase of the club. However, Whitney was out of town and Charley Stoneham said nothing, so the story could be neither confirmed nor denied and, besides, Mr. Whitney and his project, if any, is a little late.

If he is starting negotiations, he's five months behind another outfit which almost bought the club last April and it might interest him further to know that two members of the bidding party are still looking for a third, so that they can go ahead and underwrite 70 per cent of the stock.

In addition, it was not so long ago that A. C. Blumenthal, night life habitue, was attempting to organize a syndicate to buy the club and, for all anyone knows to the contrary, he still is. This fact, by the way, resulted in the name of James J. Walker, former mayor of New York, being associated with the deal. Walker and Blumenthal are intimates of many years' standing.

Giants Reclaim Old Prestige

Perhaps the price, understood to be somewhat less than two million for 70 per cent of the stock, has skyrocketed recently. For, in addition to the fact that it seems inevitable that the Yankees must yield their stadium to increased real estate values and return to the Polo Grounds, thus greatly increasing its revenues, there is the circumstance that the Giants seem about to reclaim the prestige that was theirs' some years ago.

They have been fortunate enough to win a world championship just at the time when the lustre of Ruth is beginning to turn green and curl at the edges.

However, there is no other known impediment at this time, it being Stoneham's story, in private, that he's willing to sell if somebody else is able to buy. That "somebody," of course, must be what is loosely known as a man of substance. I don't know how Mr. Stoneham feels about it but baseball wants no portion of racket-men or racket-money.

McGraw's Plight Onerous

As for McGraw, his plight is onerous but simple. He'll be named from time to time as manager of this club and president of that. But pay these bright ideas no great heed. Unless the club is sold over his head, McGraw must sit there with his feet on a desk and hope out loud for deliverance. First of all, baseball law says that a man owning stock in one club cannot accept employment from another.

And, second of all, McGraw cannot sell that stock unless Francis X. McQuade and Stoneham both agree to let him do it, which means that Mr. McGraw cannot and will not sell that stock. The only thing that Stoneham and McQuade have agreed on in the last eight years is that, if they never see each other again, it will be premature.

WHO'S the NEW COACH?

YALE'S ROOT

Destinies of the Yale bulldog this year will be held in the hands of an athletic-appearing young man with curly, reddish-brown hair and a ready grin....Reginald ("Reggie" to you) Root....the boy who succeeded Dr. Mal Stevens as head coach of the Blue last year....The new mentor is an alumnus of Yale, and played guard and tackle for his alma mater in 1924 and '25....although he didn't wow the populace with his deeds....He was probably better known for his ability with a lacrosse club than with a pigskin....and was one of the school's brilliant scholars, tutoring this fellow and that in order to earn part of his tuition....After finishing college, Root was picked by a group of Yale men to coach a football team at Mexico University ....as a measure of good will between the two countries....For two years he labored and, in one game against Mississippi, his Mexican squad completed 23 out of 28 attempted passes....Root was made freshman coach at Yale in 1931....and his selection as head coach at the end of Yale's rather unsuccessful 1932 season, was surprising to some....Steps into his new job with an advantage most of the new mentors lack—a sophomore team he coached last year....Those sophs, together with the rest of the 96 men who turned out for him this fall, may get Yale somewhere....Yale has gone "Notre Dame," you know, throwing "breather" teams off its schedule entirely....Reggie, at 29, is one of the youngest big-time mentors in the game....and he has a good chance to get somewhere in his first year up.

WALLACES WIN S. A. FATHER-SON CROWN

Dr. W. S. Wallace and Paul Wallace were definitely established today as the year's No. 1 father and son golfing combination of the Santa Ana Country club.

They became champions by defeating in the final round of an annual tournament L. R. and Don Kennedy.

Dr. Wallace shot an individual 90-20170 and Paul had a 90-22-66, giving the pair a combined score of 180-42-138.

The elder Kennedy took an 83-14-69, while Don had an 81-8-73 to give the runner-up a combined total of 164-32-142.

In winning, the Wallaces eliminated George Jeffrey and son, William, the 1932 champions, in the quarter finals and then defeated B. V. and Elmer Curry in the semi-finals.

The Wallaces were defeated in the finals of the same event last year by the Jeffreys.

The club's annual caddy tournament was won by Marvin Meyers, who defeated Wayne Garlock, 5 and 4.

Spartans To Take On L. A. Eleven Next

Bobby Decker, former U. C. L. A. backfield star, today was definitely written out of the Spartan-West Coast All-Stars football game at the Municipal Bowl tomorrow night.

Decker is favoring a severe leg injury that will keep him on the bench at least ten days, according to word received here by Loren Smith, sponsor of the Spartans.

The nocturnal engagement will be the Spartans' second at the Bowl but their fifth start of the season, three contests having been played elsewhere. Decker's absence from the West Coast lineup gives the Santa Anans an even chance to win, it is believed.

Direct from a stunning 10-0 win over the San Diego Submarines Sunday, the Spartans are in good physical condition, and will be able to throw their full force against the Los Angeles outfit, Coach Blanchard Beatty indicated.

TILDEN DROPS BOMBSHELL IN TENNIS RANKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Still the Peck's bad boy of tennis, Bill Tilden dropped a few odoriferous eggs in the lap of the United States Lawn Tennis association today. The first one was Bill's announcement that Ellsworth Vines, former National amateur champion and Davis Cup star, had turned professional and will play Tilden in Madison Square Garden Jan. 10.

Egg No. 2 was Bill's announcement that the pros are prepared to stage at least two months of sectional and state tournaments next year with a view to forcing an open tournament.

Egg No. 3 was the announcement that Bill and Vines will make a tour to the coast following their appearance here and tentative dates have been arranged for Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

No. 4 was the announcement that Henri Cochet and Martin Plaa, the French stars, will come over in February to play nine matches against Tilden and Vines in two days. Four singles and a doubles match will be played each day.

No. 5 was Bill's tacit bid to lure more star amateurs into the pro ranks when he said, "If any amateur is seeking some real competition he can find it among the pros."

VINES CONFIRMS REPORT OF PRO CONTRACT

PASADENA, Oct. 10. — (INS)—Ellsworth Vines, former world's amateur tennis singles champion, today confirmed an announcement in New York that he had turned professional.

Vines stated that in all probability another high ranking amateur player would turn professional and join Bill Tilden's troupe.

No names were mentioned, but Southern California tennis fans speculated on the names of Lester Stoefen and Wilmer Allison.

"I plan to begin practicing on the boards the middle of next month,' Vines said. "I will go east the middle of December.

"My contract is nothing like $100,000 as reported, but it is attractive enough and will pay me to join the Tilden ranks."

Vines added that "my circumstances are well known. I'm no millionaire. I've got to earn a living some way or other. There's no 'legitimate' way to do it as an amateur."

TROJANS ADOPT POLO

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The University of Southern California will elevate polo to its list of recognized intercollegiate sports, Athletic Director Willis Hunter announced today. Although the sport had been played by Trojan teams the past two years, it had never been ranked on the official calendar.

NATS TO STAND PAT WITH CLUB THAT WON FLAG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. — Joe Cronin, manager and shortstop of the Washington Senators, American league champions, signed a contract today by which he will continue as manager of the club.

The contract was for three years with a salary which Cronin said was "a substantial increase" over that for the past season rumored as $17,000. Neither Cronin nor Clark Griffith, president of the club, would say what the new figure was.

"We never announce the figures on our contracts," Griffith said. "Let New York do that if they want to." He was referring to the announcement that Bill Terry, manager of the world champion New York Giants had signed for five years at $40,000 a year.

Cronin said he was pleased with the contract which carries the same annual salary for the three-year period, and predicted another pennant for the Nats.

Cronin will leave Thursday for his San Francisco home.

"We have a fine team and contemplate no trades at this time," Cronin said. "There are no weak spots in our regular lineup. A fine array of reserves is ready on the bench."

To the avalanche of criticism leveled against his managerial strategy during the world series, Cronin shrugged his shoulders and assumed a philosophical attitude.

"The dividing line between heroes and goats in baseball certainly may be called microscopic," he stated.

Cronin said he would join his family immediately and forget about baseball until early next year. He will just "take it easy" and play tennis—this sport ranking second in his favor. He also characterized as "first class hooey" rumors of his impending marriage to a noted actress.

RUTH, TERRY PACK GRIPS AND QUIT GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The two best known men in baseball, Babe Ruth and Bill Terry, had their grips packed to leave town today.

Ruth was leaving for Honolulu where he intends to play a few exhibition games. He wasn't certain how long he would stay.

Terry, who, in his first full season as manager, rode the New York Giants to a world championship, planned to go to his home in Memphis. He was taking with him a new contract calling for five more years as player-manager of the Giants at a salary believed to be about $40,000 annually.

News Of Orange County Communities

PRESENT PLAY IN BEACH CITY ON OCTOBER 25

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—Rip Van Winkle, a dramatization of the famous and fanciful Washington Irving story of the henpecked Dutchman, who slept for 20 years in the Catskill mountains and returned to find himself forgotten by his family and friends, will be the first production of the reorganized Community players under the new director, John B. Hughes. October 25 has been set as the date and rehearsals have started.

The Community Players group has been organized as an independent group, under the sponsorship of the Community club. Many local amateur players have joined and many others have been attracted by the wide scope of the movement and will assist. Mrs. Jessie Way Hardie, teacher of drama in the San Pedro High school, who has her permanent home in Laguna Beach, will assist the director when she is home over the week ends.

A feature of the work will be th "dramatic laboratory." Through this branch, players, playwrights and scenic and technical artists may try out new ideas, without worrying about the box office or pleasing an audience. Plays and playlets will be acted on the stage of the club, but the audience will be restricted to members of the Players. A comedy in one act is being cast for early production. New plays that have not been given a hearing by professional producers, because the authors are unknown, will be read to the organization and produced if there is a favorable vote. Persons who never have had an opportunity to take part in a play will be given a chance.

The casting for Rip Van Winkle has not been completed. Dr. J. Walter Rankin and Charles Radford have tried out for the part. John Marriner, a prime favorite in amateur theatricals locally, has been cast as Deidrick Van Slaus and Mary Williams, another favorite in character parts, as Dame Van Winkle. Other castings in principal roles are Harold Aheard as Herman Van Slaus, Mrs. Catherine C. Dean as Lorrenna Van Winkle, and Herbert Caldwell as Hendrick Vedder.

GUN CLUB VISITOHS

SMELTZER, Oct. 10.—W. C. Crow, president of the Los Palos Gun club, and Mrs. Crow and Mr. and Mrs. Leo McLaughlin, of Pasadena, were recent visitors here. A weiner bake was held at the club house during their stay.

THREE HUNTINGTON BEACH OIL WELLS READY FOR PRODUCTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 10.—Three wells are worrying their owners and drill crews in Huntington Beach town lot field at the present time. The wells are groaning and spitting like wildcats trying to come out into the open. The one most interesting to the field is the "Babe" Allison well at the corner of Fourteenth and Ocean.

This well has a six-inch combination string to insure a water shutoff. If this well comes in it extends the proven territory three blocks east. Yesterday the well crew changed the mud, putting in heavier mud and pumping out the old. The well was threatening to blow out, come in before the crew was ready for it. It ought to be pouring its black gold into the tanks before midnight, according to the well crew and operator.

The John H. Marion and H. M. McComb well on Sixteenth street between Ocean and Walnut, has plenty of gas but so far refuses to disgorge a sufficient quantity of oil to suit the operators. It is thought the trouble is merely temporary and that the defect will be remedied soon.

The third well is the Minnesota Oil company's well on Nineteenth street between Walnut and Olive. Here the operators have plenty of oil, but there is a shortage of gas and the well so far has been stubborn about performing. They may put a compressor on it or they may pump it. It is being swabbed now and is slowly gaining force and may be flowing into the tanks tonight. The Standard Oil company has contracted to buy oil from the Allison and Marion and McComb wells. On the Allison well the contract reads for the life of the well. On the Marion well the contract is for a long term of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Batterman were married in St. John's church by the Rev. Jacob Kogler, who served as pastor of the church for many years. Mrs. Batterman is the member of one of the pioneer families of Orange county and before her marriage was Miss Louise Jacobs. Batterman has served as principal of St. John's day school for the past 30 years and was church organist for a quarter of a century, resigning the position five years ago.

E. E. Wunderlich, organist at St. John's church, opened the dinner program with Lohengrin's Wedding March as Mr. and Mrs. Batterman entered the dining room. The long table was beautifully appointed with silver and pink predominating in the color theme. Pink candles were placed in holders formed of delicately fashioned silver leaves. Nut cups were in pink and silver and pink sweetpeas and dahlias were used about the room and in the table decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Batterman received numerous silver gifts including a shower bouquet and silver coins daintily wrapped and attached to silver ribbons alternating with flowers.

Those present at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. William Batterman and son, Lorenz Batterman; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kogler, Mr. and Mrs. Ansell Nordeen and daughters, Marilyn and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Batterman, Mr. and Mrs. F. Read the "Ads"

but don't ignore medical opinion

if you want to

—keep bowels regular and comfortable
—make constipated spells rare as colds
—avoid danger of bowel strain

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form.

Can Constipation be Corrected?

"Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say thousands who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose that you find suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without assistance.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels as regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is no "convenience" in any cathartic that's taken so frequently, you must carry it wherever you go!

What is the "Right" Laxative?

In buying any laxative, read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. By using it, you avoid danger of strain. You can keep the bowels regular, and comfortable. You can make those constipated spells as rare as colds.

How many dimes and quarters are spent on "popular" laxatives! How quickly they count up, as you use more and more of these habit-forming helps! A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin would save you money—and bring you real relief.

Why Doctors give a liquid laxative

The habitual use of irritating salts, or powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets is risky.

The properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without discomfort or injury. You need not take a "double dose" a day or two later.

The public can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore.

Urge Immediate Action For City Hall At Old Site

BUSINESS MEN OPPOSED TO WILLARD DEAL

Protesting the proposed use of the Tenth and Main street site for a city hall and advancing a proposition to call a special election to permit borrowing federal funds to erect a new building at the former location at Third and Main streets, a group of business men in the Citizens Civic Affairs association appeared before the city council last night.

James Harding, representing the sponsors of the movement, requested that the city council defer any action on the signing of a lease with the board of education for the use on the old Willard school until a petition could be circulated and presented to the board. He said the decision to campaign for the Third and Main street site was reached yesterday afternoon at a special meeting of business men. W. B. Martin is president of the group and Linn L. Shaw, secretary.

Urges Action

The petition now being circulated in Santa Ana by the association, and which Harding reported was favored by virtually everyone he had approached, was read to the council. It stressed the benefits of building while prices of materials are low, advantage of securing funds from the government and receiving an outright grant of $30,000 on a $100,000 building, and cooperation with the national program of new public works to relieve unemployment.

The group of business men attending the meeting yesterday and backing the proposal includes Fred Fuller, Charles Aubrey, Ed Yost, Walter Vandermast, A. N. Zerman, Jerry Hall, Harry Westover, Asa Hoffman, James Harding, E. S. Morrow, Rodney Bacon, W. H. Spurgeon, Charles Walker, Charles Chapman, Dr. K. A. Loerch,, Dr. J. J. Jacobs, W. F. Croddy, W. B. Martin, Linn C. Shaw, Gene Kahen, Herbert Miller, Charles Swanner, Thomas Lambros, Harry Ball, Milton Foster and Chester Dietler.

Harding indicated that the petition would be presented to the council next Monday night. It is understood that the board of education, having advertised the leasing of the old school, will open bids on Oct. 20 and the city council will make a decision on Oct. 23.

Text of Request

The text of the petition follows:

"We, the undersigned, residents and electors in the city of Santa Ana, do hereby respectfully petition your honorable body to call a special election for the purpose of submitting to the electors of said city the proposition to borrow from the United States government the net sum of seventy thousand dollars ($70,000), for the purpose of constructing a modern city hall building upon the real property owned by the city of Santa Ana, at the corner of Third and Main streets in said city. Said obligation to be secured by the note, bonds or other obligations of the City of Santa Ana, as may be required by the United States government; said loan to bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, and to be amortized over a long period of years, not exceeding the period of 40 years; it being understood that the United States government will make an outright gift to the city of Santa Ana of an additional $30,000 toward the construction cost of said city hall building, making the total cost of said building $100,000.

"We earnestly urge that this matter be submitted to a vote of the electors of said city at this time for the following reasons:

"1. That the city of Santa Ana has no city hall building, as a result of the damage caused through the earthquake of March 10, 1933.

"2. That the offer of the United States government to make a gift of 30 per cent of the cost of said building should be taken advantage of at this time, as such an offer may be withdrawn at a later date; the cost of materials and labor in the construction of said building will never be any lower than at the present time; it might be impossible to sell bonds if voted at a later date, which would not in any event include a gift of 30 per cent of the cost of the building; and the moneys spent in the construction of such a building at this time would relieve unemployment.

"3. That the construction of a new city hall building at this time is in accordance with urgent request of the president of the United States, and the public work program urged by the federal government under its National Recovery Administration."

COLDS

Go Thru 3 Stages

—and They're Far Easier Relieved in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "nail" a cold.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment for colds. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a preparation good for half a dozen other things as well. It is direct and internal which is what a cold, an internal infection, requires. It is also complete—it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and refuse a substitute.

Legion Gavel Changes Hands

WALNUT CROP 25 PER CENT SMALLER, QUALITY BETTER

Final pre-harvest estimate for California walnuts, just completed by the California Walnut Growers Association, indicates an orchard run outturn for the entire state, to be handled by all packers, of 33,000 tons, of which approximately 28,000 tons should be packed as merchantable unshelled walnuts, and 5000 tons will be culls which will be cracked and converted into shelled walnuts.

This compares with a total orchard run production of 45,000 tons last year and a merchantable pack of 37,410 tons, or a decrease in this year's merchantable tonnage of 25 percent, according to data obtained by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg from the Association.

Shipments have started moving about three weeks later than the early harvest of last season. The quality of the crop will apparently be superior to that of last year, but sizes are averaging slightly smaller, Wahlberg said.

"The American walnut industry, including the growers and packers in Washington, Oregon and California, have developed a surplus control program under the Federal Agricultural Adjustment act," Wahlberg said. "Through the control agreement, all surplus production, including carry-over in excess of estimated domestic market requirements, will be equitably delivered to the walnut control board for export or by-producting, and cannot enter the channels of domestic trade in competition with the salable percentage allotted to the various packers."

COUNTY QUOTA TOTALS 60 FOR CIVILIAN CAMPS

Orange county has been given a quota of 60 men to be sent to Civilian Conservation Corps camps for the second "enlistment" period, according to County Welfare Director B. V. Curry, who has been named county registration agent for the camps by R. C. Branion, director of state emergency relief.

Curry said yesterday that already he has enough men registered to more than fill this county's quota and will forward them to March Field as rapidly as the necessary investigations have been completed. He said that there are several times as many men trying to get into the camps as there are openings, which will preclude registration of any but the most needy cases.

Only 2853 enrollies will be taken from California during this period, according to Branion, contrasting with the 11,500 quota in the original enrollment. The new enrollies will be in the nature of replacement units.

County quotas for the new enlistment have been figured on a population basis, the same as were the original enlistment quotas, Los Angeles leads the list with a new quota of 1070 while Alpine county has none and Mono county can send but one man.

Proud? Hugely!

CITRUS ROOT DEVELOPMENT TO BE SHOWN

An unusual opportunity will be afforded tomorrow morning to observe the growth development of roots on old orange trees when several stumps are pulled and removed at the Earl E. Campbell orchard, south of Orange.

A few of the oldest orange trees in Orange county will be removed and their stumps pulled, thus exposing their extensive root system. The trees are about 55 years old. Having grown on a deep alluvial soil, they have developed tremendous roots, both vertical and lateral. Campbell extends an invitation to any grower who may be interested in tree root development to not only see the exposed roots but also the unique mechanical device used in pulling the stumps at minimum cost.

Campbell has asked Farm Advisor Wahlberg to take charge of the demonstration and discuss soil and moisture factors that influence root growth. A short discussion will be given at 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning, just preceding the stump pulling demonstration. Dr. H. S. Fawcett, nationally known citrus pathologist has been invited to be present and note condition of the roots.

The Campbell orchard is located on Fairhaven avenue, one-fourth mile west of Tustin avenue, or approximateiy one mile south and one-half mile east of Orange.

MODERN STOVES TO BE USED AT COOKING CLASS

Emphasizing the assertion that no stove more than three years old is modern, a number of late model Wedgewood gas ranges are to be displayed at The Register's fall cooking school, October 18, 19 and 20 at the West Coast theater through the courtesy of the J. C. Horton Furniture company, one of the co-sponsors of the school.

Miss Louise Lane, home economist, who will be in charge of the three-day school, will arrive next Monday and at that time will select the type of Wedgewood range she will use in her classes.

The Wedgewoods to be displayed are the newest models received this week from the factory at Newark, Calif., and have been rushed to Santa Ana for this premier demonstration. Horton states that these stoves embody many new features and refinements.

"There is a vast difference between the new models and those found in the majority of homes," he said. "For instance, the gas manifold which has always been a source of annoyance in old gas ranges, is now completely enclosed. There are no exposed hinges or corners in which grease and other soiled material can collect. The development of stoves is comparable to mechanical refrigeration. The latest gas stoves include insulated ovens. These ovens are heat controlled gy a dial instrument which will maintain the exact temperature desired. This saves a great deal of gas.

"Replacing the studs and bolts of previous construction, the newer stoves are built of heavy steel, strongly welded into one piece, presenting a smooth exterior finish, covered with heavy durable porcelain.

"Eliminating the use of matches, the new Wedgewood stoves are equipped with cooking-top burners which light automatically and instantly when the gas is turned on.

The Alpha Beta and Orange County markets will furnish all foodstuffs and cooking ingredients used in Miss Lane's classes. Meats also will be furnished by these markets. The first class will be held Wednesday, October 18 at the West Coast theater from 10 o'clock in the morning until 12 o'clock noon.

Hostess Gives Dinner Honoring Two Birthdays

Serving as a joint observance of birthday anniversaries of Mrs. W. A. West and Mrs. Raymond Dixon was the lovely dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. West entertained Sunday evening in their home on West Seventeenth street.

The occasion was given added significance when guests learned that it had been just one month since Mr. and Mrs. Dixon were wedded in Yuma, Ariz. Mrs. Dixon was formerly Mrs. Betty Brookbank.

Colorful dahlias from the gardens of the Dixon ranch home near Garden Grove brightened the table where a delicious chicken dinner was served at six o'clock. Birthday cakes baked by Mrs. W. H. Mize had been placed before the two birthday celebrants. They received other gifts.

In the group with Mr. and Mrs. West were Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mize, this community, and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Fine of the San Fernando government hospital. Mrs. West, who is county chairman of war veterans, took this opportunity to send orange marmalade back to the patients in the government hospital.

Earlier in the day Mr. and Mrs. Dixon had gone to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle to take jellies and jams for the veterans.

AUTUMNAL WEDDING RITES AMONG LOVELIEST OF YEAR

Uniting two of the prominent families of this community, the wedding service Saturday, October 7, of Miss Dorothy Diehl, daughter of the Christopher Bismark Diehls, 2309 Bonnie Brae, and Manley L. Natland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thor C. Natland, Garden Grove, was one of the most beautiful and impressive to have been held during the autumn months.

Occurring at 8:15 o'clock in the Church of the Messiah, the rites were preceded by a violin-organ recital with Miss Georgia Belle Walton and Halstead McCormac as the artists. The program culminated with the arresting strains of Lohengrin as the wedding party formed at the altar. There was a mystic beauty to the scene, with snowy blossoms massed with their greenery at the altar amidst its many candles, and wreathing the tall tapers burning throughout the church and at the entrance to each pew.

Velvet-Clad Bride

Miss Diehl was radiantly lovely in a sheath-like gown of white velvet, its supple folds reflecting the candlelight sifting through her gauzy veil. The tulle of the veil was caught to a tiny close-fitting cap of hand-made lace, and completing her loveliness was her great cluster of gardenias and lilies of the valley in formal arrangement. It was on her father's arm that she went to the altar and by him that she was given in marriage.

Autumn and its jewel colors were given emphasis by the velvet gowned bridesmaids, Miss Florence Brownridge, maid of honor, wearing hyacinth blue; Miss Clara Kate Owens in orchid, and Miss Marcia Huber in a wine shade with a suggestion of mauve in its folds, bringing the three exquisite gowns into color harmony. Each carried a sheaf of chrysanthemums whose white petals were faintly touched with rose.

Impressive Rites

Mr. Natland had the assistance of his brother, Leonard Natland, as best man, and of Messrs. Robert Diehl, Raymond Reafsnyder and Edward Adams as ushers. The service was read by Dean William W. Fleetwood of All Saints church, Beverly Hills, assisted by the Rev. William J. Hatter of the Church of the Messiah. Dean Fleetwood had christened the bride in her infancy, and confirmed her in her girlhood, in Salt Lake City, former home of the Diehls.

As the new Mr. and Mrs. Natland left the altar following the rites, it was to pause in the entrance to the church to receive felicitations of their friends. Later Mr. and Mrs. Diehl, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Natland, received members of the wedding party and the two families in the Diehl home, which, like the church, was garlanded with white blossoms. Mrs. Diehl was gowned in smoke-gray lace and Mrs. Natland in blue lace, and each wore a gardenia corsage.

Reception Aides

After the new Mrs. Natland had cut the first slice of her bride cake, that task was completed by Mrs. George Rice, the former Miss Sherrill Spurgeon, herself a bride of recent date. Mrs. William H. Spurgeon jr., and Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth presided at the lace-spread, candle-lit table, and were assisted in serving by Mrs. William H. DeWolfe and Mrs. Emrys D. White.

When Mr. and Mrs. Natland took their departure for a motor honeymoon through the redwoods to San Francisco and Berkeley (from which they will return via Lake Tahoe and the Yosemite) Mrs. Natland wore a smart sheer wool in gray with all accessories in black, and a corsage cluster of gardenias. Awaiting their return is a charming apartment in Long Beach, gleaming with the handsome gifts that attest the popularity of this lovely young bride. Mr. Natland will resume his work as geologist with a large oil company.

You and your friends

Mr. and Mrs. John Walkinshaw and son William, of Fresno, returned Monday to their home, concluding a few days visit here with Mr. Walkingshaw's mother, Mrs. M. A. Walkinshaw, 438 South Broadway.

In New York City they were guests of Mrs. Hewitt's sister, Mrs. C. W. Landin. They made the trip by train.

Mrs. Gertrude Scheffer Woodruff, formerly associated with the late Will A. Flood, D. D. S., as office nurse, this week started in on her duties in similar capacity with Harvey M. Spears, D. D. S., in his new offices in the First National bank building.

120,000 SEE FIRST 3 GAMES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—(UP)—A 15 per cent gain in football receipts for the first three games of 1933 compared with the same period of 1932 was reported today by Arnold Eddy, graduate manager of athletics at the University of Southern California.

Although no actual figures were given, Eddy estimated attendance to date at 120,000. The Trojans are expected to draw in the neighborhood of 70,000 fans next Saturday when they entertain St. Mary's.

Political Conditions Abroad Described By Mrs. Vallely

"Make no mistake about it Hitler is at the head of the government in Germany to stay," said Mrs. Jack Vallely in her talk to the women of Ebell society and their friends yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Vallely spent the summer months in Europe and presented current affairs in Europe as she viewed them, before her current talk on books.

"When I was in Germany," she said, "between thirty and forty thousand were interned in political concentration camps. At this time, eighty thousand political prisoners are in concentration camps. Germany has suffered from six major catastrophes since the World war and today for the first time the German people have a little hope. The persecution of the Jews in Germany is logical but not excusable. It is an economic movement, not radical in its impetus. Europe today is in just as dangerous a situation as it was in 1914. Two-fifths of Austria is Nazi today, three-fifths belong to the opposition.

"There is a strong pacifist movement in England, much stronger than in this country. France is in a strong position to fight a preventive war now. She is all ready. Five years from now Germany will be ready. France is in the position of being able to say 'I told you so,' as the military spirit is rampant in Germany. And she is losing no opportunity of saying it to the rest of the countries who have pressed France to reduce her armament. Thirty thousand Nazis are in training camps, ostensibly being trained for political leadership but political leadership in Germany appears to require considerable military training."

Mrs. Vallely's talk on current history led up to her book list for October which was headed by "Germany Enters the Third Reich" by Professor Calvin Hoover. That book she recommended highly saying she felt it presented an accurate picture of recent events in Germany and the present situation. "My Struggle" by Adolf Hitler was written 10 years ago but only recently has been translated for England and America. Vicki Baum, who read the book in the original, is authority for the fact that one section has been removed from this edition. In that section Chancellor Hitler stated that nothing was ever achieved through love or friendship, only through hate. Beverly Nichols, the author of "Cry Havoc" is a young pacifist leader in England. In his book he advocates that the manufacture of armaments be taken out of the hands of private individuals.

Mrs. Vallely mentioned several outstanding plays in London, some of which is to be produced in New York this year. Two plays about the Brontes were popular in England. The outstanding plays mentioned were: Biography, "Richard of Bordeau," and "The Green Bay Tree." Books to which she gave swift analyses were Richard Aldington's "All Men Are Enemies;" "Return" by Michael Home; "Twenty Years A'Growing" by Maurice O'Sullivan; "No Castle in Spain" by William McFee, and "The Farm" by Louis Bromfield.

Engagement News Told To Members of Sorority

An unusually interesting evening during which announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Lucile Meyer and Arthur Powell of Newport Beach, was shared Friday by members of Sigma chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, who were guests in the home of Miss Hazel Lee, 212 Wright street.

It was not until the close of the program that Miss Meyer produced the traditional five pound box of candy, taking this means of revealing her engagement to Mr. Powell.

During the interval preceding the romantic announcement, Mrs. C. J. Klatt gave a worthwhile talk on Book Reviews, stating that they must express personality and ideas of the reviewer as well as characters in the story itself. She summarized her talk by reviewing numerous current books.

Miss Lee served refreshments at the close of the evening.

During the business interval, plans were made for a Hallowe'en dance, with the date to be announced later. Miss Katherine Spicer, 517 South Orange avenue, is to be hostess at the chapter's next program meeting.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon

Salad plate:
Thin slices Casaba or other melon
½ ripe pear, diced
2½ tbsps. cottage cheese rolled into balls
Lettuce hearts
2 tbsps. mineral oil mayonnaise
¼ disk Ry-krisp, no butter
Clear tea, no sugar.
Calory total, 210.

For new readers of this column I will repeat directions for making mayonnaise of mineral oil so that it has none of the objectionable oil taste and appearance.

It is important that all utensils be thoroughly chilled, as well as the ingredients. Starting from there, put in your chilled bowl:

3 egg yolks
1 tbsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. ice water

Beat well to mix and drip chilled mineral oil, drop by drop, until the dressing thickens. All vinegar by the teaspoonful until 2 cups of chilled oil and 4 tbsps of vinegar have been used.

This should make a very thick mayonnaise. Thin it down with chilled buttermilk until it is a nice pouring consistency. Keep it well chilled but be careful that it does not freeze. Freezing any type of mayonnaise will always curdle it.

* * *

Mineral oil mayonnaise has an approximate calory value of 6 per tablespoonful.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Sandwich Combinations

(1)

Peanut Butter With Sweet-Sour Dills

To 1 pound of peanut butter add 1 cupful of finely chopped dill pickle, and as much pickling liquid as needed to make the peanut butter of spreading consistency. Keep in a jar, chilled. Spread bread first with thick mayonnaise, then with peanut butter mixture.

Fillet Mignon Toasted Sandwiches

Take a small piece of tenderloin of beef and slice paper-thin (good round steak sliced very thin may be used also). Butter bread, sear the thin steak on a hot pan, put on the bread, season, press top slice over steak, slip under broiler and toast quickly on both sides. Brush with butter and serve at once with pickle relish.

(3)

Open-faced Cheese-and-Bacon Toasted Sandwiches

Spread slices of bread with butter or mayonnaise, cover with a layer of grated cheese, over the cheese put very thin strips of bacon cut to fit. Slip under the broiler and toast until bacon crisps. Serve hot with relish.

(4)

Minced Olive and Nut Rolls

1 small can minced ripe olives, ¼ cup walnuts, ground. Mix to spreading consistency with mayonnaise, slice a very fresh loaf of whole-wheat bread, very thin, cut off the crusts, and spread with the filling. Roll up and place face down in a pan. Cover with damp towel until ready to serve.

These are very nice with a shredded cabbage and pineapple salad.

The calories in most sandwiches are many:

No. 1, 325 calories for a full sized sandwich.

No. 2, 300 calories for a full sized sandwich.

No. 3, 185 calories for a single slice of bread, etc.

No. 4, 250 calories for full sandwich.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

As little Duncy snoozed away, ne of the Indians whispered, Say, what is that youngster doing here? That's what I'd like to know.

"I've never seen the lad before. I fear that trouble is in store. What say we try to scare him? Maybe that will make him go!"

Another said, "I hope you're right. Come on, we'll yell with all our might. Then we can hide behind some trees. He won't know what to think.

"No doubt, he'll start to look around and then, when not a thing is found, he'll likely get excited and then leave here in a wink."

Just as they were about to yell, a third small Indian said, "I'll tell you what would be a better plan. Let's rope the little scamp.

"We'll do it while he's sleeping sound, and when we have him safely bound, we'll all pull on the rope and lead him right back to our camp.

"I have a lot of rope right here. The plan will work out, never fear." And then the band crawled closer, moving on their hands and knees.

They soon reached Duncy's side, and then they all dashed out of sight again. The sudden scare they all got came when Duncy chanced to sneeze.

"Just wait," said one. "He soon will be right back in slumberland. You'll see!" And sure enough they shortly heard wee Duncy start to snore.

Then, up they rushed. My, what a sight. They tied poor Duncy up real tight. The lad was so dumbfounded, all he said was, "What's this for?"

"Don't say a word," one Indian said. "We've captured you. Now, use your head and do what e'er we tell you to. Then nothing will go wrong.

"We're going to take you far from here, but promise there is naught to fear." Then, when the Indians started out, wee Duncy trailed along.

24,100 POUNDS OF PORK TO BE USED FOR NEEDY

Word has been received by County Welfare Director B. V. Curry that 24,100 pounds of pork is available for distribution to the needy of Orange county and will be shipped here as soon as plans have been completed to care for it.

The notification was received late yesterday from R. C. Branion, state emergency relief director and Curry sent immediate word that storage facilities are available. He plans to store the meat, all cured, in the rooms of the courthouse annex, formerly used as a kitchen when the annex was known as St. Ann's Inn.

Curry said that the meat is provided by the federal government providing that hogs taken under the government program of handling agricultural surpluses, shall be used for the relief of needy persons. He has been notified that it can be distributed only to those persons eligible for county relief.

MURDER CASE HEARING OPENS IN COURT TODAY

With the morning session being taken up with the reading of transcripts of statements made by Jesus Pena and Sylvia Delsie Ybarra in connection with the murder of Francisco Mendoza of Delhi last October, the preliminary hearing for the two defendants was continued until this afternoon by Judge Kenneth Morrison.

Mrs. B. A. Swanwick, court reporter who took the confession statements of Pena and Mrs. Ybarra on September 25 following the finding of Mendoza's body near Laguna Beach, was the first witness put on the stand this morning by Deputy District Attorney Leo Friis, prosecuting the case. He had Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel start to make an identification of clothing and the body of Mendoza just before the noon recess.

From the reading of the two confessions, there was a conflict in details leading to how Mendoza came to his death. Pena first told a story of being called by someone to a fence near the corner of Adams and Halliday streets in Delhi and being accosted by Mendoza with a knife when he reached the fence. He said he ran toward the railroad tracks, picked up an iron rod and hit his pursuer on the head, knocking him down. He admitted striking Mendoza three or four times after he was down and then threw the man in a Laguna ravine, still alive.

The story of Mrs. Ybarra contradicted that of her lover, for she maintained that Pena called Mendoza from his house and killed him after a heated argument. When Pena entered the house, he told her "he had hit Frank" and she must help him dispose of the body. She said he gave her no reason for killing Mendoza. She admitted accompanying Pena to Laguna with Mendoza crumpled up in the rear of the car but still alive. At first, she denied having helped Pena clean the blood spots from the car with cleaning fluid but later changed her story.

Mrs. Ybarra said in her confession that it was probably rivalry for her love that caused Pena to kill Mendoza because he had repeatedly said he wanted to live with her and would commit suicide if she would't come with him. On October 31, the day Mendoza was killed, they had agreed to move to her mother's home in Stanton and had told Mendoza of the plan, she said.

The courtroom was packed for the hearing and many were turned away. Both Pena and Mrs. Ybarra maintained a calm composure during the reading. Objections to reading parts of the transcript were made by Defense Attorney W. M. Burke, on the grounds that insufficient foundation had been laid and that the testimony of one was damaging to the other.

SPANISH VILLAGE ELECTION NOV. 18

San Clemente's special election to elect a successor to Earl Von BonHorst, who was recalled by one vote at a recall election held last week, will be held November 18, it was decided at a meeting of the San Clemente city council last night. Mayor Thomas F. Murphine and Councilmen A. T. Smith and O. R. Robertson were present.

The council named Virgil Westbook as judge, Winston Keerl as inspector and Sallie May Clark and Henrietta Stowell as clerks.

So far Von BonHorst is the only candidate for the office. In an open letter he challenged Ole Hanson, founder of the Spanish Village, to run for the same office.

NEW YORK STOCKS

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. — (UP) — A drop of 114,704 tons to a record low in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation today unsettled the stock market.

The unfilled tonnage report as of September 30 was made public at noon. Up to that time the market had moved irregularly in a narrow range. The drop in orders was greater than had been anticipated. Steel Common eased off and traders sold moderately in other sections of the list.

Chicago Bd. of Trade

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Corn attracted chief interest in the grain pits today as a strong buying wave lifted the yellow cereal up from the lows of an early decline to close fractionally higher.

Wheat reacted more than two cents a bushel, but recovered about half the loss, while oats climbed about a cent a bushel from the lows. Both cereals, however, were sold against purchases of corn, which was in heavy demand by cash interests and commission houses.

Wheat started fractionally lower on better crop reports from the Argentine and gradually eased off until December touched 83, off 2⅝. At that level support buying was attracted. Trading was professional, with locals and commission houses switching to the buying side just before the close after offering contracts lal day.

At the close wheat was 1⅛ to 1⅜ cent lower, corn was up ¼ cent to off ; cent and oats were ⅝ to ½ cent lower.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1933

BUSINESS MAY BECOME SIMPLE

According to today's dispatches, Senator Wagner, who was one of the principal exponents of the NRA legislation, proposes that wages themselves shall be fixed under the NRA program. Minimum wages have been established, minimum hours established, etc., etc.

Now they suggest that they will have to go in and fix wages themselves. It is also proposed that prices be fixed, at which goods shall be sold at retail. We have supported, and we still support the NRA program, and if it is proposed that wages be fixed by a group representing the NRA, we are for it.

But if wages and prices are to be fixed, there isn't anything left for the owner to do, except to subtract his total income from his expense, and find out how long he can operate, or vice versa, to see if there is anything left. If the government did this, it would do practically everything except take the responsibility of seeing that the income reached the expense. But with expenses fixed by the government, and prices of sales fixed by the government, there isn't anything left for management to do.

Then if they tell the creditors that they can't foreclose on any institutions that are conforming to the NRA program, this would be a great world. Every difficulty that is met by such a proposition as Senator Wagner proposes, raises another difficulty more stupendous than the one that is solved.

Homer C. Chaney, speaking the other day at Julia Lathrop Junior High school, emphasized the need of re-distribution of national income, continuation of national planning of every resource, and a guarantee of adequate living for all. It looks as though this must be the plan of the government, and Wagner's road is the route that will be taken.

While we see how, if all labor is employed and the salaries are fixed at a point that amounts to a living wage, and that prices are fixed, so that the people can afford to buy, everybody is taken care of but the management and owners, and if these are put in the wage earning class and guaranteed enough also, we could all be happy. But it looks as though those are the only ones who are forgotten. Wouldn't it be funny if the owner and manager turned out to be the "forgotten man"?

Well, it certainly will be a test of his patriotism. It isn't difficult to be patriotic when the government is going along the way we would like to have it go, when we are well-fed, well-clothed, well-sheltered, and in good health. When the government isn't going along our road, the testing time comes. If the road is in the right direction, even the "forgotten man" will be remembered.

New York preacher says persons who fail to vote should be fined $10. It's worth that much not to be blamed for most of those who are elected.

RESCIND THE PLATT AMENDMENT

The Platt Amendment in the Constitution of Cuba was forced upon that country when the island was freed from the tyranny of Spain. It gives the United States the right to intervene in the domestic affairs of Cuba whenever the stability of its government is threatened by revolution. It was accepted only under pressure, and has always been resented. Once only since Cuba became free has the right been invoked, that was during the presidency of Mr. Taft.

Cuba in politically independent. Economically it is dependent upon American financial and landed interests. The island is almost totally owned or controlled by American interests. Such an anomalous and contradictory situation is bound to breed trouble. And when there is the knowledge among the people of the country that there ever hangs over them the threat of foreign political as well as economic domination, stability is always threatened.

Any one who has read the article by Hubert Herring in the October Current History can hardly escape the conclusion that the Platt amendment should be rescinded by the United States. The principle has been a trend in our recent diplomatic history. We have withdrawn our military forces from Haiti and Nicaragua. The time has come when we should withdraw the perpetual threat of force in Cuba carried in the Platt amendment.

The occupation of Cuba by our military forces in the face of the all but unanimous sentiment of the Cuban people raises both an ethical question and the question of the financial cost to the country. Armed occupation of Cuba would be a high charge in our resources, and nothing can result from it but the ill will of the Cuban people and a constant state of insurrection.

American financial and industrial interests have no right to throw this burden upon the tax payers of this country. When an American does business in a foreign land he must expect to abide by the laws of the land. We demand that of foreigners doing business within our borders.

Any attempt of a foreign country to invade Cuba is provided for by the principles of the Monroe Doctrine. The Platt Amendment exists for no other purpose than to conserve American financial and industrial interests. These interests should cultivate the good will of the Cuban people, and not depend upon the military forces of their country for protection. A spirit of good will between the United States and Cuba will in the long run accomplish more than this lurking threat imbedded in the Cuban constitution.

STRIKES AND COMPLICATIONS

It is pretty difficult to tell which is the just side of many of these strikes. In the so-called "captive" mines, or the mines owned by the steel companies, there are strikes on and serious questions have arisen.

It should be remembered that there is a coal miners' code, and there is a steel code. The steel companies, which own the "captive" mines, say that the steel code shall apply to their mines, as well as to any other part of their work. The miners declare that the mine code should apply to the mines, regardless of who owns them.

As we recall, in the steel code, the "merit" provision, which really is destructive of union discipline and control, applies. That provision is not in the coal code. The provision to which we refer is the one that permits the employer to employ or discharge on merit, which is contrary to the union rules. If the steel company can have the steel code apply to the mines which it owns, then a different code would apply to its mines than to the other mines.

In each case, there is a little different set of circumstances, but there are always two sides to the controversy. Several strikes are on in this state. The employers have wondered how long the strikers could hold out, but R. C. Branion who represents the State and Federal government on relief work, declares that relief administrators should help needy strikers. Branion is quoted as saying: "Applications for relief should be treated on their merits, fully apart from any controversy in which the wage earners may be involved."

Heretofore, in our labor and employer conflicts, we have had the desire for profit urging the employers to a settlement, and the desire for a living urging the employes to a settlement. Now it would appear that one side is taken care of in the controversy, relieving them of the strain. We wonder if this is being done, regardless of the merits of the controversy, or has the State Welfare director learned that the strikers are right in their position. In any case, it again presents an interesting new phenomenon under the NRA.

STABILITY THROUGH FREEDOM

Whose government is the strongest? Which is the most stable? What great government has been freest from revolution and has adapted its constitution to the changes of life with the least trouble? All thinking men would promptly respond: Great Britain. It is the one country in the world that has the freest press and the freest speech and whose right of assembly is protected to the highest degree.

Other nations may come and go. Their governments can change from monarchy to oligarchy to republic to Fascist, to dictatorship, and to Communist and all changes are radical and upset conditions causing distress and suffering. In all of these, whichever government is in control they throttle free speech, scatter assemblies and place publishers and editors in jail who attempt to give the news and tell the truth.

In England all of these fundamental liberties are guaranteed and the government is the strongest in the world. Changes come as the result of turning on the searchlight of discussion and truth and the citizens, knowing it, accomplish their work in a constitutional and evolutionary manner. The Mussolini-Stalin way is not the way of freedom and orderly security. They accomplish their end by throttling free speech. England and America proceed by guaranteeing it.

Racketeers' Lawyers Face Angry Public

Riverside Enterprise

In its war on criminals and racketeers the Federal justice department apparently intends to be thorough. It has compiled a list of attorneys suspected of underworld connections. Wherever it can prove improper connections, it intends to punish and disbar the lawyers involved. Without influential connections in the upper world, the underworld could not have achieved the power and audacity it has lately displayed.

Under our system every citizen has a right to legal protection and defense until he has been proved guilty of a punishable crime. Even a convicted criminal has certain rights of appeal before sentence is finally imposed. The lawyer who looks after such a client's interests, honestly and fairly, is not the object of the justice department's drive. The lawyers the department seeks to curb are those who advise the underworld on how to commit and cover up crimes, who connive at criminals' escape when caught, resort to trickery in court defenses, and in general exceed the bounds of legitimate legal protection.

Bar associations have been trying to tackle this problem. They should welcome Federal assistance. The public would be glad to see local authorities take courage and inspiration from the national Government's activity and set about for themselves cleaning up weak places in police forces and courts where the wrong influences sometimes seem to carry more weight than public welfare and justice.

Ring Lardner

San Diego Union

He date-lined his dispatches, "No Visitors, N. Y."

Ring Lardner was dying slowly—and he knew it—when he undertook radio reviewing for that smart little magazine, The New Yorker. He couldn't get out to "cover" theaters or ball-games, and he hadn't the strength left to plug away at fiction. But even under a doctor's care he could follow the radio programs, and they allowed him a typewriter because he couldn't be contented without one.

Lardner knew that the end was coming soon. But he wanted to meet it with a typewriter under his fingers, with ideas being shaped into words, and with an editor waiting for his copy. . . . .

That last job of work is the tip-off on the man himself. Brilliant, extravagant in every way, both penetrating and facile in his criticism of the world he watched, he had also that contradictory quality of grim courage—grim courage enough to die debonairely.

He approached the end with a smiling skepticism, hiding his desperation—keeping the last possible contact with life's raciness and color and zest, but keeping his mind keen and his words gay. . . . .

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

NOTHING TO FRET ABOUT

In the days when dime novels were printed,
And the urchins all over the land
Sneaked out to the shed
Where they secretly read
About bold Jesse James and his band,
The uneasy fathers and mothers
Of many a twelve-year-old child
Were filled with grave fears
Lest their dear ones' careers
Would prove to be wayward and wild.

In the time of the bloodcurdling drama,
Where villains were quick on the draw,
And spent all their time
In the plotting of crime
While they raucously laughed at the law,
The parents of many a youngster
Were filled with the hideous dread
That their dear little son
Might soon tote a big gun
And fill some good person with lead.

Today when the kids spend on the "speakies"
The money they should spend for books,
And vastly admire
The courage and fire
Of crafty and sinister crooks,
They still make their parents unhappy;
But the most of 'em, as you will find
If you trace their careers
Through the swift passing years,
Will prove just the good, average kind.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pape

After supper ma said to pop, Really, Willyum, you'll haff to do something about Benny, he's getting so scatter brained the common realities of life have no more meaning to him than an empty cloud in thin air.

That's serious, this is a hard boil werld and it's no place for dreemers, unfortunately, pop said, and ma said. When I tell you his latest exploit you'll realize it's time you did something to bring him down to earth.

Tell me his latest exploit, pop said, and ma said. Well, I was sewing in my room and he was lying on the floor transported to unearthly climes with his nose in a book as usual, and there was a banging at the back gate and I thawt Thank goodness at last it's the plummer to fix that leeking faucet that's been driving me crazy. And then I remembered that Nora wasn't down there to open the gate so I told Benny to hurry down and at last he pried his nose from the book with an expression like a perfect vacuum and started down, and that was the last werd on the subjeck for about 10 minnits when he reappeared with an even more meeningless look on his face and announced that nobody was at the front door. The front door, can you imagine that, when I had sent him to open the back gate? Well, of course by that time the plummer with his revolutionary ideers had decided not to wait and when I got him on the telefone later the best I could extract from him was nebulous promisses of the intangible nature, so the leeking faucet is still a permanent fixture and it's all the fault of your son's ingrained absent mindedness and what are you going to do about it? ma said.

By gollies, that reminds me, speeking of dopes, I went and left your package in the trolley car, I mean the package that somebody left at my office for you, he said, and ma said. My goodness, my half a dozen sheer linen handkerchiefs from the hemstitchers, my lands, no wonder Benny's the way he is with you the way you are, you're just 2 of a kind.

Wich we are.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files 14 Years Ago Today

OCTOBER 10, 1919

The quarterly meeting of Los Angeles district, Free Methodist church, in session here for its four days' convention, had brought many pastors, delegates and visitors of that denomination from all sections of the Southland.

With 17 bidders for the $50,000 high school bonds voted by this city, the Security Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles offered the highest premium, $650, when the bids were opened by the supervisors. The bonds were to provide for the building of a new assembly hall at the high school.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WHEN BUSINESS BACKS INFLATION

Yesterday I suggested that the business men who are now protesting inflation may prove more responsible than the politicians who are now promoting inflation for its ultimate adoption by the Roosevelt administration. I suggested this seeming absurdity because I believe that, unless the broad purposes of the Roosevelt recovery program—with certain corrections—are realized, nothing can prevent a resort to inflation.

And, at the moment, there are all-too-many business forces blindly sabotaging the Roosevelt recovery program, which is the only alternative to inflation practically before the country. These business forces sniping at the national leadership just now may be roughly divided into four classes:

(1) There are business forces that are more or less openly defiant of the national recovery program.

(2) There are business forces that, while protesting that they are sympathetic to the aims of the national recovery program, are silently sabotaging it by innumerable delays.

(3) There are business forces that are privately scuttling the codes to which they have publicly subscribed.

(4) There are business forces that initially backed the national recovery in complete sincerity in the belief that business generally would follow suit, but now hesitate and hamper the program as they see defiance and delay elsewhere in the business world.

Here are the four groups that are doing most to force Mr. Roosevelt to inflate. I believe the President can be trusted to resist the politicians promoting inflation—although I may be wholly wrong—if the business men protesting inflation will go the limit in cooperation with the national leadership in effecting measurable recovery by other means.

And there is no time to lose. If Mr. Roosevelt can have before him a chart of production and consumption curves moving hopefully upward by the time Congress convenes, he can hold the fort against the inflationists. If not, no power under heaven is likely to prevent Congress from taking the power to inflate back into its own hands.

Business is at the bat. The bases are full. Will it strike out or knock a home-run?

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

TALKATIVE

"David, stop talking, please. You've never stopped a minute since you came in from school."

"I want to tell you things, mother."

"I know, but you can't talk all the time. You are making me tired listening. Aren't you tired talking?"

"No."

"Well, I just can't listen any more. You'd better get your velocipede and ride it for a while."

"All right mother. I just thought of something. I'm tired listening."

"You? When did you listen?"

"I listened to the teacher all day in school, I did."

"Didn't you talk sometimes?"

"No. She never lets us talk. She talks all the time."

"O, now David. You must have talked some time. Didn't you?"

No. Only at recess."

"Not in the room? Didn't you read to the teacher?"

"A, yes, but that isn't talking. I just read, 'Who's that walking over MY bridge,' and then she spoke next. No. I never talked once all day."

"Well, you've made up for it now. Go on out and ride a little."

The child was about right. He had no chance to talk much for the hours he was in school. He is called in his turn and what he says has little to do with what he is thinking about. Talking is saying aloud what one thinks and if one gets no chance to do that he does not talk, though he may speak.

It is not possible to allow children to talk much in school. The classes are too big and the program is set the other way. Some allowance must be made then for little children who want to talk when they get home. It is necessary for them to do so. It is the only way they can learn to use words and build up their language powers. But who is to be the audience?

Take your turn. Listen and talk and be interested. You have to talk to the child to help him become intelligent. He needs to express his thoughts and he needs to learn words for the purpose. Talking to him trains him in the use of language, supplies him with a model, gives him a vocabulary. Home must supply what school lacks.

Little children need to talk to other children of their own age. If you listen to the conversation you may think it very silly. They don't say much for all their talking. They repeat the same thing again and again. They use the same words over and over. They leave sentences hanging in the air, interrupt themselves frequently. All this is part of the scheme of language growth. Just leave it to them. When your turn comes you can supply topics, words, and stimulating interest that will develop conversational powers.

Talking to a child is an art. Maybe you think you have it? The best way to find out is to try sustaining a conversation with him for five minutes. Then practice until you can. Conversation is one of the best approaches to a child's personality.
